SUPPLEMENTARY
ELLIS CONFESSION
IS READ TO JURYSEATS AT HEARING
HELD FOR WOMENGerk Testifies He Made No
Promises to Ellis, but Did Not Tell Him of Penalty for Alleged Crime.

The supplementary confession of Albert Ellis, to the murder of Edna Ellis, was read to the jury today, the fourth day of the Ellis trial, in connection with the testimony of Herman B. Childs, police reporter of the Post-Dispatch. Childs was one of a number of reporters who interviewed Ellis at the Dayton street station after he had signed his original confession for the police. The supplementary confession covered points brought out by the reporters' questions.

The original confession, which Ellis signed early Sunday morning, Nov. 7, was read to the jury at last night's session of the trial.

In the original and supplementary confessions, Ellis, who is 21 years old and lives at 4605 Sacramento avenue, admitted that he killed his former fiancée, Edna Ellis, with a razor, on a vacant lot near her home at 1823 North Garrison avenue, Thursday night, Nov. 4. He repudiated these confessions after he engaged a lawyer, Judge Hartmann, ruled Tuesday, after a prolonged interview in charges of coercion, that the confessions appeared to have been made voluntarily, and that the confessions and supplementary statements would be admitted, and the jury could judge of their value.

No session will be held tonight. Judge Hartmann announced at noon. Counsel for the defense had complained that night sessions did not leave sufficient time for the counsel to consider the evidence.

A "women first" rule was followed in seating the courtroom crowd this morning. It had been announced that court would open at 9:30 a. m., a half-hour earlier than on previous days. The courtroom doors were not opened until 9:40, and before that time two lines of men and two lines of women were formed in the corridor. The women were admitted first, taking the seats, and the men were then admitted to the standing space, which they filled. Some had been waiting since 8 a. m.

Two women living in the neighborhood of the Dayton street police station, who were called into the station, and whose testimony by Ellis gave the first testimony today. They were Mrs. Nora Johnson of 1437 North Twenty-second street and Mrs. Mary Hannon of 1310 North Jefferson avenue. They were called into the station by Ellis, who gave the first testimony today.

Ellis said he did not amount to much. Childs said, "and I got the impression that he did not wish to say any further attention to it." He said Ellis asked about getting home and the Chief said that was a matter for a Judge to decide. The Chief then said:

"These men here (pointing to the reporters), are all newspaper men. I want you to tell them what you have told me, and answer any of their questions that you feel like answering."

Childs said he asked Ellis about the bloodstains on his hands, immediately after the killing, which he said to his confession that he soon removed.

He said Ellis told him there was blood on his right hand from the razor fight beyond the knuckles, and on the left hand beyond the knuckles. He said also that Ellis told him he had not been at the corner of Glasgow and North Market street, where street car employees have testified on Page 2, Column 2.

URBAN POPULATION OF COUNTRY PASSES RURAL;
51.4 PER CENT OF TOTAL

Figure for Towns of More Than 2500 Announced as 54,318,032, a Gain of 5.6 Per Cent—51,390,739 in Rural Territory.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The urban population of the United States, or people living in places of 2500 or more, is 54,318,032, or 51.4 per cent of the nation's total population, and the number of people living in rural territory is 51,390,739, the Census Bureau announced today. In 1910 urban population represented 45.3 per cent.

The figures disclose that for the first time in history more than half of the population of the continental United States is living in urban territory.

Urban Figures Show Gain.
The population of the cities and towns in 1920 showed a gain of 5.6 per cent over that in 1910. The proportion of urban population is larger than in 1910 in all but three states—Colorado, Montana and Wyoming—the largest increase being that for Michigan—from 47.2 in 1910 to 61.1 per cent in 1920. Texas, Ohio and Oklahoma also show considerable gain in the proportion of population living in urban territory.

The urban and rural population by states follows:
Alabama, 809,817 and 1,839,857.
Arizona, 117,527 and 216,376.
Arkansas, 290,497 and 1,461,707.
California, 2,331,729 and 1,095,192.
Colorado, 453,258 and 486,370.
Connecticut, 938,339 and 444,292.
Delaware, 120,767 and 102,236.
Florida, 355,825 and 612,645.
Georgia, 757,859 and 2,167,973.
Idaho, 115,637 and 312,829.
Illinois, 4,404,678 and 2,079,692.
Indiana, 1,482,855 and 1,447,535.

INVESTIGATORS
HEAR CORK MAYOR'S
STORY OF IRELANDDonal O'Callaghan Accomplishes Announced Purpose
in U. S. When He Appears Before Committee.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Donal O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, accomplished today the announced purpose of his mission to the United States when he appeared before the committee of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question and gave his story of conditions in his native land.

Before a crowd which jammed the hotel ballroom where the commission resumed its inquiry, the Lord Mayor declared that the killing of the late Lord Mayor MacCurran of Cork and other Irish leaders in March, 1920, marked the beginning of a "reign of murder" in Ireland, which had rendered life and property "entirely insecure."

The witness gave his age as 29 and told the commission that he had been elected Lord Mayor by the Corporation Council of Cork to fill out the unexpired term of the late Lord Mayor MacCurran.

The Lord Mayor Council at Cork were held surreptitiously to avoid raids by the British military and that as a result the city's business has suffered. He added, however, that all the people, regardless of political affiliation, paid taxes levied by the republican administration.

O'Callaghan said his home had been raided eight times and that he slept in a different place each night. There are two Irish leaders in his home, he declared. "Those by the murder gang and those by arresting parties."

Tug Wrecked, 7 Men Missing.
By the Associated Press.
GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 13.—The United States Engineering Department tug Capt. Talfor has been wrecked and it is believed seven men of the crew perished. The tug left Sabine Sunday morning for Galveston and nothing was heard of the tug until today, when her deckhouse and other wreckage came ashore on Galveston beach.

New York's Urban Figure Highest.
In total urban population, New York leads the country, while Pennsylvania stands second, Illinois, third, Rhode Island has the highest percentage of urban population with 97.5 per cent of its total classified as city dwellers. Massachusetts is second with 94.8. New York, third, with 92.7. New Jersey, fourth, with 78.7. California, fifth, with 68.0, and Illinois sixth, with 67.9.

In total rural population, Texas leads, while Pennsylvania is second, Georgia, third, Ohio fourth, Illinois fifth, and North Carolina sixth, each having more than 2,000,000 persons living outside of cities and towns. Mississippi has the highest percentage of rural population, it being 86.5 per cent.

Colorado, Montana and Wyoming lost in urban population during the decade, due to the fact that in each State by far the larger part of the total increase was in the population living in rural territory—65.4 per cent for Colorado, 77.7 per cent for Montana, and 70.8 per cent for Wyoming.

The bureau's statement did not undertake to account for the drift from the rural to urban territory.

MINER TAKEN FROM ALABAMA RAIL BY
MOB AND SHOTBody Found After Authorities
Had Expressed Belief

leasing Alleged Slayer.

By the Associated Press.
JASPER, Ala., Jan. 13.—William Beard, a miner, held in connection with the killing at Nauvoo of James Morris, a National Guardsman, on Dec. 31 last, was taken from the Walker County Jail here early today by a mob and later shot to death, three miles from Jasper.

The jailer and military authorities believed Beard had been rescued from prison by friends until the body was discovered at the roadside by a rural mail carrier.

The jail warden surrendered the keys when he found himself unable to summon assistance. The prisoner was sent away in an automobile and the mob dispersed. National Guard troops and the State law officers are on their way here.

Nauvoo is in a coal mining community and the shooting of the guardsman followed the killing of Beard's father-in-law, James Norcutt, a striking miner.

Judge FREES MAN WHO HIT
$6-AN-HOUR TAXICAB DRIVER

"Four Dollars Enough for Any Man's Cab; It Looks Like Highway Robbery," Says Court.

A taxicab passenger who landed on the law of a taxicab driver who charged him $6 an hour for the machine, was discharged today by Police Judge Ittner, on a charge of peace disturbance.

"It looks to me like a case of highway robbery," said the Judge. "Four dollars an hour is enough for any man's taxicab. The defendant is discharged."

The passenger was Hugh McNulty, a saloonkeeper at 3235 South Broadway, and the chauffeur worked for Jacob Heimbecher, who has a taxi stand at 3614 South Broadway.

BANK CLERK TELLS

Covering Up Shortages
Since Nov. 15.MADE ENTRIES ONLY

counts Caused Inquiry—
Began Irregularities to Pay
Debts, He Says.

Morris Van Shoemate, 25, of 726 Baugh avenue, East St. Louis, bookkeeper in charge of individual accounts at the Night and Day Bank, 818 Olive street, who was arrested yesterday, related today what prompted him to take $1400 of depositors' money and how he did it. Shoemate said that he offered to make good his shortage in two days, but that the bank officers were willing, but that the surety company on his bond demanded his arrest.

Shoemate said that when he entered the employ of the bank last Oct. 15 at $12 a month he was in debt about $400. Of this amount he said, $46 was to a loan company from which he had originally borrowed $21.50 to buy a suit of clothes. Soon after his employment with the bank he began to revise the methods of keeping individual accounts, he said, and during this work the thought came to him that it would be easy to take money and hide the fact.

He declared that he took $800 on Nov. 15 by entering deposits in customers' pass books, but refraining from making corresponding entries on the bank's books.

"I paid all my debts," he said, "and found the first money so easy that I kept on."

Shoemate said that his books, along with others of the banks, were examined by the State Banking Department early this month and passed inspection.

Recently, however, customers who were notified by the bank that they had overdrawn their accounts declared that they had not and a tracing through the books led to Shoemate being summoned before bank officials yesterday.

CARD PLAYERS FREED BECAUSE POLICE COULDN'T TALK GREEK

Patrolman Thought Gambling Was Going on, but Conversation Was "All Greek" to Him.

Four men, arrested last night in a Greek coffee house at 526 Elm street on a charge of gambling, were discharged in Police Court today because the policemen who made the arrests were unable to interpret Greek.

A policeman testified that the four men were at a table playing cards and that $3.55 was on the table. He said that the players were conversing in their native tongue and from their gestures he surmised they were making wagers.

"Did they say anything about wagers?" inquired Judge Ittner.

"I couldn't understand them," said the policeman. "They were talking Greek."

"Discharged," said the Judge.

The men gave their names as Dan Madanias, Gus Malbois, Nick Marquans and John Monis.

I A. M. LID CLAMPED DOWN ON
"GAY WHITE-WAY" CABARETS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Merriment along the "Gay White Way" received a severe jolt today when police made the rounds early today of all cabarets and dance halls with orders to rigidly enforce the State excise law forbidding them to remain open after 1 o'clock. A series of raids by plain clothes detectives in the "lid clamping" crusade resulted in the arrest of three bartenders charged with selling liquor without license.

Most of the cabaret proprietors unprotestingly complied with the order.

Some managers, however, who conducted all-night restaurants, after the amusement ban, refused to close their doors.

Paul Slavin, manager of the Folies Bergere, Montmartre, Moulin Rouge and other resorts claiming to be Parisian atmosphere, reluctantly turned his customers out.

HARDING, WHEN PRESIDENT, TO HAVE
VALET FIRST TIMEHe Is Accustomed to Packing
His Own Grip and Buying Clothes Himself.

MARION, O., Jan. 13.—One of the great changes to come in Warren G. Harding's life after he reaches the White House will be the acquisition of a man servant. Harding never has had such a luxury. When Mrs. Harding has not been around to do it for him, he has packed his own grips. He has always bought his own clothes and knows just where to find his favorite necktie. At the White House, things are to be different. Senator Harding is to inherit the same capable personal attendant who has been in the executive mansion since the days of Taft. He has resigned himself to the fate of most public men, that of trying to be a hero to his valet.

The other day when Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, was here, Harding walked down town with his valet and the two dropped into a shoe-shining parlor where they attracted no unusual attention. They sat and discussed national and international affairs while two boot-blacks were busy with their brushes and cloths.

MANUFACTURERS' CONVENTION
ADVOCATES "OPEN SHOP"

Resolutions Oppose Immigration Restrictions and Railway Adjustment Boards.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The national conference of State Manufacturers' Associations yesterday adopted resolutions favoring the open shop in American industries, urging a "constructive policy of controlled immigration" with no restrictions generally at present, and opposing restoration of national boards of adjustment sought by the railway brotherhoods or any step which "would tend toward nationalization of America's railroads."

The resolution concerning the open shop opposed the closed shop on the grounds that "all law abiding citizens have the right to work when they please, for whom they please and on whatever terms are mutually agreed upon between employer and employee."

The railway national boards of adjustment were opposed on the ground that they "would have a tendency to require industrial and professional adjustment throughout the country" and had "destroyed methods and practices which always have been recognized as promotive of efficiency such as the system of piece-work in shops."

WINNER OF CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL OF HONOR RE-ENLISTS

Charles D. Barger of Waco, Mo., Was Decorated for Rescuing Two American Officers.

By the Associated Press.
WACO, Mo., Jan. 13.—Charles D. Barger of this place, one of the 79 men in the United States who won the congressional medal of honor in the war with Germany, has re-enlisted in the regular army at the Joplin recruiting station. He has been assigned to the 33rd Infantry at Camp Pike, Ark.

Barger, who was a private, first class, in L Company, 354th Infantry, won the medal of honor for his heroism in rescuing two American officers who had been shot down in "No Man's Land," 200 yards from their own lines, near the Bois de Baunheville. Accompanied by a stretcher bearer, Barger went to the rescue, but the stretcher bearer was shot down, too. He then dragged all three to a position of safety. He also has the Croix de Guerre, French medaille militaire, and a Belgian decoration.

NO NIGHTGOWNS FOR GUESTS AT MUNICIPAL LODGING HOUSE

Comptroller Nolte won't let Director of Public Welfare Schmoll put nightgowns on the guests at the Municipal Lodging House. This decision was made today after Nolte had personally inspected the lodging house at 110 South Twelfth street, where 237 men slept last night. The largest number cared for in a single night last year was 184.

Schmoll asked that the city purchase 500 each of cotton mattress pads, blankets, pillows, nightgowns and towels, for use at the lodging house. The Comptroller today decided to permit the purchase of the pads at a total cost of $1325 and the pillows at a cost of $240, but he said the blankets and clothing bags were not necessary and the nightgowns would be "ridiculous."

NEW CITY AUTO TAGS ARE WHITE

Numerals Four Inches in Height and Red—Now Being Issued.

Issuing of the 1921 State and city automobile license plates was begun today at the city hall. This morning about 2800 plates were distributed.

The new license plate has a white background with four-inch red numerals. Last year's plate had a green background with black numerals.

It is estimated that 40,000 plates will be issued here. State licenses can be had at Room 419, city hall, while city licenses are distributed at Room 101.

STAND ON INAUGURALPresident-Elect Declares He Would Not Favor Ruthless
Scrapping of Mississippi
Barge Line.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, O., Jan. 13.—Senator Harding today afternoon visited the newspaper correspondents in "the shack," the little one-story house built for their use in the rear of the Harding headquarters. Snatching a half hour from the time which he continues to give to the unending procession of callers the President-elect, without solicitation, dropped into the press room and played both the role of interviewer and interviewee. He was plain Warren Harding at his best—a genial, considerate man, utterly lacking in ostentation, eager to do the "homecoming" thing.

The Senator backed himself up against the wall and frankly answered the questions put to him. He had no Cabinet announcements to make, but intimated that something might be forthcoming before his departure for Florida. While in Florida, he said, he meant first of all to retire from the public gaze and get off the stage and into the winter for about two weeks, so that he can work on his inaugural address without interruption and do a little fishing. His headquarters will be at St. Augustine.

Tells Much in Confidence.
Senator Harding talked freely, but much that he said was in confidence. Being a newspaper man himself, he felt that he could understand the correspondents not to "cross his wires" and make trouble for him.

"We'd like to help you, Senator," volunteered one man.

Harding smiled his gratitude. Not everybody who has been here received his help. He was helping him. Harding didn't say that in words, but his manner did. He has been a man much beleaguered by people with axes to grind. Next week, he indicated, he will see few visitors, having some preparations of a personal nature to make before he starts South.

Just when that would be the Senator did not care to announce. He said he would travel straight through to Florida without stop.

Senator Harding said in reply to a question that he had not gone into the subject of the Mississippi River barge line. When asked by friends of the project, for continued Government operation of the line through its experimental period, was briefly told before him, the Senator said that if there were Government-owned barges, they would naturally not be in favor of any "ruthless scrapping" of the line. Not being familiar with the situation on the river, that was as far as he would go. The Senator displayed interest in the type of barge being used on the Mississippi and added that he knew something of the work being done by the Black Warrior steel barges in carrying coal from the Alabama fields to Mobile.

St. Louisans Commend Harding.
The Harding headquarters continued throughout yesterday to receive telegrams from all over the country congratulating the President-elect on his stand for a simple inaugural ceremony. A considerable number came from residents of Washington. Among the senders of messages were Clarence H. Howard of St. Louis, who wired that Harding was "helping to Lincolnize America and stabilize industry," and H. M. Pfleger of St. Louis. Typical of hundreds was a telegram from Senator Capner of Kansas, commending Harding for talking "good home sense," and saying that his statement on inaugural plans would meet with "instant and universal approval."

Comment here today indicated an impression in some quarters that Harding's telegram to Senator Knox, suggesting that he take the oath of office on the east porch of the Capitol, instead of in the Senate chamber, as proposed by the inaugural committee, was intended as a rebuke to the Senate for an attempt to "hog" the ceremony. The President-elect had no such thought in mind, it was said today. The suggestion of the Senate chamber as the scene of the ceremony was a perfectly natural one. It was said, however, that the Senate alone will be in session on March 4. This body will have been called into special session by the outgoing President, while the present House will have some out of existence at midnight.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Jan. 13.—The Japanese official report of the fatal shooting of Lieut. W. H. Langdon, chief engineer of the United States cruiser Albany, by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok in the early morning of Jan. 8 agrees with the Japanese press reports that the sentry's shot was preceded by a revolver attack upon the sentry, according to Major-General Sato of the staff of the Minister of War. A bullet from Lieut. Langdon's revolver passed through the sentry's sleeve, and after firing the shot the Lieutenant ran off and was shot in the back, the General said in the report stated.

The sentry who fired the shot is being court-martialed. It is announced, Gen. OI, the Japanese commander at Vladivostok, immediately sent the officers of the Albany an expression of his regret, and the Minister of War also cabled his regrets.

PACKAGE CONTAINING $1000
MISSING FOR SEVERAL WEEKS

Mercantile Trust Co. Officials Unable to Locate Money Sent in by Country Bank.

It was learned today that officials of the Mercantile Trust Co. are investigating the disappearance of a package of money, said to contain about $1000, which was received at the bank several weeks ago.

Edward Buder, vice president and treasurer of the company, said the investigation had not yet determined whether the missing money had been purposely or accidentally misplaced. He declined to discuss the details.

It was reported that an out-of-town bank, one of the Mercantile Trust Co.'s clients, forwarded the money to the Mercantile Trust Co. and failing to receive an acknowledgment of its receipt, wrote during the Christmas holidays for an explanation.

The money was rechecked for by a clerk, but no further trace of it could be found. The clerk was unable to explain what had become of the money after it had passed through his hands.

Several clerks have been questioned and a search of the various departments of the bank was made.

Sentry Did Not Shoot
American Until He Had Been Attacked.LIEUTENANT WAS WOUNDED IN BACKIn Statement Before Death
at Hospital He Said He Was Shot as He Walked Away From Sentry.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Both the Navy and State Departments are awaiting today further official information concerning the fatal shooting by a Japanese sentry several days ago at Vladivostok of Lieut. W. H. Langdon, chief engineer of the United States cruiser Albany. The Government already has evidenced its intention of making a careful investigation of the affair, but will take no action until the actual facts have been obtained.

So far the State Department, has been informed only of the bare fact of the shooting and has requested Consul McGowan at Vladivostok to forward a more complete report. However, two reports were received late yesterday by the Navy Department from Admiral Albert Gleaves, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, giving both sides of the affair. Admiral Gleaves also informed the State Department he was then en route to Vladivostok to personally investigate the shooting.

The Japanese embassy announced today that Lieut. Langdon was shot by a Japanese sentry when he failed to understand or heed a command to halt, according to an official version of the incident received today.

Japanese Story of Shooting.
Lieut. Langdon, the message said, had drawn a revolver after the sentry had pulled "back the hood" that gripped Langdon's face in an effort to determine whether he was a Russian or an American, but did not fire until after the sentry had shot him after the officer had turned to walk away.

The message as to the shooting, as received and made public by the Japanese embassy, said:

"The Japanese sentry stationed in front of the Japanese staff headquarters at 4:30 o'clock in the morning saw a man approaching who was using a flashlight, casting its rays upon the front of the staff building. He stopped the man and demanded to know if he was Russian or American. Not understanding the reply made by Langdon, the sentry sought to pull back the hood which was drawn over his face to inspect him.

"The officer resisted and drew a revolver, whereupon the sentry stepped back a couple of paces and presented his bayonet. The officer turned to proceed on his way. The sentry called to him in Japanese to stop, and when the order was disregarded he fired.

"Langdon turned upon the sentry and fired twice at him with his revolver and then collapsed."

Sentry Now Under Arrest.

The sentry has been arrested, another message to the embassy said, and ordered before a court-martial which is charged to develop all of the facts upon which the Government may proceed further in the case.

Another message to the embassy said the Japanese Government and people were greatly concerned over the incident and that both the Minister of War at Tokio and the Japanese commander at Vladivostok have pressed regret to the commander of the Albany.

The reports to the Navy Department showed the shooting occurred at night in front of the Japanese division headquarters. The American's death following a few hours later at a hospital, but showed contradictory statements as to its cause. The Japanese sentry claimed his suspicions were aroused when he saw the officer flashing a hand lamp and called upon him to halt. The officer replied, he said, by firing a revolver at him. This he returned with a rifle shot, after which the officer fired twice at him. The sentry ran back to call the guard, and when he returned the American had gone.

Lieut. Langdon's statement, made after his arrival at the hospital, gave an entirely different version. He said he was halted by the sentry, replied to a question as to his identity.

WOMAN HELD UP, JEWELRY VALUED AT $1075 TAKEN

Mrs. Yetta Koffman Stopped by Two Youths When Walking in 3700 Block on St. Louis Avenue.

KEPT COVERED WITH REVOLVER

Rings Removed From Ears and Fingers and Pin Torn From Dress—Other Robberies Reported.

Mrs. Yetta Koffman, 36 years old, of 3838A Marquette avenue, told the police that she was robbed of jewelry valued at $1075 by two youthful highwaymen, who held her up at 10:45 o'clock last night as she was walking in the 3700 block on St. Louis avenue.

Her account of the robbery was as follows: She was returning from a visit to the Orthodox Jewish Old People's Home, at East Grand and Blair avenues, and had alighted from a Grand car to transfer to a west-bound Case car at Grand and St. Louis avenues. As there was no Case car in sight, she started to walk to her home, three blocks away, and was walking west on the south side of the 3700 block on St. Louis avenue, when one of two youths who evidently had been following her, called upon her to "wait a minute." As she turned around the youths pointed revolvers at her and told her to keep quiet. They backed her into a lot west of 3724 St. Louis avenue.

Demanded Her Jewelry.
"All we want is your jewelry," said the spokesman, "and if you don't want to get hurt, just keep still." While one robber kept her covered with a revolver, the other removed her diamond earrings, which she valued at $350, tore a diamond bar pin valued at $100 from her waist and then took off her gloves and removed two diamond rings valued at $225 from her fingers.

"Now go on about your business," they told her, as they ran east on St. Louis avenue. Mrs. Koffman went home and related her experience to her husband, who telephoned to the police.

Charles F. O'Connor, 22, of 1452 Webster avenue, was arrested yesterday when police found in a closet of his home a 16-gallon can of grain alcohol and a five-gallon jug of sherry wine which had been stolen in a burglary Tuesday night at the drug store of Thomas Rosenthal, 1460 North Grand avenue. A quantity of cigars and cigarettes which also were stolen were not recovered.

Prisoner Denies Burglary.
In reporting the burglary Rosenthal told the police that he encountered O'Connor in the basement of the store Tuesday night and that O'Connor told him he was looking for a washroom. O'Connor denied having committed the burglary and said that he could not account for the presence of the alcohol and wine in a closet adjoining his room.

William Burns, a negro, of 4234 Fairfax avenue, told the police that two white men held him up at 10 p. m. at Whittier street and Cook avenue, and robbed him of $15. He said that when he protested one of the robbers hit him on the head with a revolver.

Jewelry valued at $350 and $5 in cash were stolen yesterday at the home of Chris W. Knappmiller, 3514A Dodder street.

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN APPEAL OF 261. W. W.'S

Counsel for C. W. Anderson and Others Challenges Sufficiency of Indictments.

The appeal of C. W. Anderson, designated by Government attorneys as "second to Bill Haywood in the leadership of the I. W. W." and 25 other members of the organization, ranging from one to nine years in the penitentiary, obtained about a year ago in Federal Judge Pollock's court in Kansas City, Kan., was argued in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here yesterday.

Counsel for the convicted men challenged the sufficiency of the indictments under which they were tried and contended the indictments were illegal because they were based on literature taken in raids on the headquarters of the organization at Augusta, Kan., contrary to the law as interpreted by the Federal Courts, particularly the Silverthorne case. Government attorneys contended there was a wide difference between the literature of the I. W. W. and the books and papers which have figured in other cases in which demonstrators have been sustained in the indictments, declaring the literature seized in I. W. W. raids to be criminal in nature, advocating the overthrow of the Government by force and the destruction of the industrial system by sabotage. They said further it had never been proven or admitted that the literature seized was the basis of the indictments in the case.

Counsel for the I. W. W. today offered to give bond for the men, the security to be in the form of liberty bonds. The court refused to accept the bonds, but agreed to fix the bail of William Sapper, under a sentence of seven and a half years, at $7000, and of Fred Grau, sentenced to three years, at $3000, the bonds to be furnished by a reliable security company. Their counsel said it would be done.

400-BARREL GUSHER STARTS STAMPEDE TO ELDORADO, ARK.

Leases Selling for Almost Any Price Asked For—Unsuccessful Prospecting for Two Years.

By the Associated Press. ELDORADO, Ark., Jan. 13.—A stampede to Eldorado and the new oil field opened up by a gusher which blew in a mile west of here Monday afternoon is on in earnest, and facilities are taxed to the limit to care for the crowds arriving almost hourly on regular and special trains.

The new field is the center of a district in which there has been unsuccessful prospecting for two years or more, and curiously enough its discovery had nothing to do with the name of this little city, which was christened many years before oil was thought of as a possible source of revenue.

The stream from the gusher, which was capped last night, had been thrown steadily several feet above the top of the derrick and was estimated to total 20,000 barrels of fluid a day, of which about 400 barrels are real oil.

Leases for a distance of five and six miles in all directions from the well are selling for almost any price asked for by their owners. Special trains from the Home Field in Louisiana and from Little Rock and other Arkansas points have been put on by the railroads, and telephone and telegraph companies have been compelled to augment their forces to several times their usual size.

Scruggs - Vanderhoort - Barney

Store Hours: 9 to 5:30; Saturday, 9 to 6.

Olive and Locust From Ninth to Tenth

Gift "Items of Interest"

If You Like Silk Underthings

—And feel that you can't afford them, just look over some of the crepe de chine and wash satin garments included in the big January White Sale, and compare the prices with those you paid for the cotton ones you purchased a short time ago. If you were willing to pay regular prices for undermuslins, surely you can gratify your desire for silk at the present reduced prices.

She Needed a New Frock

—So something which would be cool and comfortable for Southern wear, and yet at the same time distinctive and becoming. So she went to Vanderhoort's, and there in the Costume Salon, she saw the most attractive Linen Dress, a combination of exactly the same shade as the linen—very smart, you know, the kind of Dress that she'd vaguely imagined, but hardly expected to find. Well, there were quite a number of lovely Spring colors, and she simply could not decide whether to choose one in soft green or gay rose. So—she just took both of them. No wonder she couldn't resist, for they're surely alluring. Costume Salon—Third Floor.

Have You a Reliable Laundress?

If you are so fortunate, you'll be delighted with the opportunity to purchase Embroidered Madeira Linens, greatly reduced in price for no more serious reason than that they are slightly soiled. Beautiful pieces, each a bit of love, with the dainty designs and the incomparable handiwork for which all Madeira Linens are noted, are selling at substantial reductions.

Art Linen Shop—Second Floor.

Peggy Playgirl Dresses

ONCE upon a time, little girls were seen and not heard. Nowadays they are apt to take the very center of the stage. Who, indeed, would be willing to keep the tiny miss in the background when she makes such a charming picture in her fashionable little frocks? The newest school and play dresses have bloomers of self-material attached to the underwaist, to allow perfect freedom to restless little limbs. There are several styles in gingham. One very new and quaint has waist and bloomers of lavender checked gingham, with a short pinafore of black satin embroidered in lavender floss.

MAN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS ON STREET WITH FRACTURED SKULL

Charles Morrow, 45 years old, married, of 2500 Forest boulevard, East St. Louis, until last Saturday employed as a storekeeper by the Pennsylvania Railroad system in the company's shops at Rose Lake, was found at 6 o'clock this morning near 4500 Forest boulevard, unconscious, with cuts and bruises on his head and his pockets turned inside out, indicating, the police report, that he had been assaulted and robbed. His skull was fractured.

Morrow was laid off at his place of employment last Saturday, and Sergt. Ruff reports that yesterday he displayed a roll of bills to a friend, and said he was not worried about being laid off, as he had enough to keep him for some time to come. When his clothing was searched nothing was found but a letter and a bottle containing about three ounces of hair tonic.

The neighborhood where Morrow was found is not frequented much by pedestrians. The police are endeavoring to ascertain where he was last evening.

UNION DISSOLUTION ORDERED

Officials of French Federation Are Fined.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Dissolution of the General Federation of Labor was ordered today by the court which has been hearing the case against Leon Jouhaux, president of the federation, and others of its officers, on charges of infringement of the law governing unions. Fines of 100 francs each were imposed upon Jouhaux and four other federation officials.

The decision amounts to depriving the federation of a legal status, but it does not prevent the organization from reforming under another name if it sees fit. A strong sentiment exists in political circles against the enforcement of the decree, the federation having taken a strong stand against the communists.

POLICE CAPTAIN IS INDICTED

Whitman's Inquiry Results in Charge of Accepting Unlawful Fees.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The first indictment arising from former Gov. Charles S. Whitman's investigation of the city administration came today, when Police Captain William A. Bailey was charged with accepting unlawful fees.

The offense charged constitutes a felonious violation of the State penal laws. The specific allegation was that the Captain had accepted $500 from David L. Mills, manager of the Association of Fur Manufacturers, last August. The money was said to have been accepted by Capt. Bailey in return for protection given the fur manufacturers against possible sabotage by striking employees.

FORD'S NET GAIN 896 VOTES

759 of 2200 Michigan Precincts Counted in Re-count.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Henry Ford had a net gain of 896 votes over Senator Newberry of Michigan in their senatorial election contest when the Senate Election Committee's recount of votes today had covered 759 of the 2200 Michigan precincts.

Newberry was elected on the face of the returns by 7590 votes.

GOWNS CHEAPER AT CAPITAL

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Abandonment of plans for an inaugural ball was reflected today in an advertisement in a local newspaper. Calling attention to large display type that "the inaugural ball has been called off," an exclusive woman's garment shop announced "the sale of dinner and dance gowns at one-third off."

"Brought about by the abandonment of the inaugural ball," the advertisement continued, "we are offering for immediate disposal, while the stocks are fresh and new, our entire elegant stock of all dance frocks, evening gowns, ball costumes, dinner dresses and evening wraps."

TRIAL OF RACE RIOT SUIT

Simmons Hardware Co. Suing Railroad Over Losses in Fire.

The trial of a suit resulting from the East St. Louis race riots of July 2, 1917, was begun in the Federal Court today. The Simmons Hardware Co. seeks to recover $22,132 from the Southern Railway Co. for merchandise which was destroyed when railroad cars were burned during the rioting.

The plaintiff contends that it was known early in the day that the situation was dangerous and likely to get out of control of the authorities, and that the defendant should have removed the cars to a place of safety. The railroad company holds that it could not have anticipated the acts of the mob.

Women to Carry Vote by Plane.

By the Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 13.—Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of Lincoln and Mrs. Draper Smith of Omaha, delegate and alternate to carry the Nebraska electoral vote to Washington, announced today they had accepted the offer of a plane and pilot from an Omaha newspaper and would make the trip by air, starting from Omaha next Tuesday.

Marriage License for Galli-Curci.

The bride to be gave her name as Amelita Galli-Curci, her age as 31, and her residence as Cook County, Ill. Samuels gave his age as 31 and his home as St. Louis Park, Minneapolis. He is the diva's accompanist.

NAVY PLANES REACH SALVADOR

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Fourteen naval seaplanes, on a flight to Panama from San Diego, are at La Union, Salvador, and will leave there Jan. 15, weather permitting, for the Gulf of Nicoya, according to a radio message received at the Twelfth Naval District headquarters.

Twelve P-5-L planes left Salina Cruz at 7 a. m. yesterday, landing at La Union at 4 p. m., while the two N-C planes reached La Union later in the day. Weather will play a large part in determining the progress of the rest of the flight, it was reported.

SERIES OF DISCUSSIONS ON BUILDING PROBLEMS

Master Builders and Employees Decide to Name Committees of Five Each for Conferences.

Following a two-hour discussion of wages, hours and working conditions in the building trades and the economic conditions today confronting builders, the two committees, each comprising 16 men, of the Building Trades Council and Master Builders' Association, yesterday afternoon decided to reduce the committees to five men representing each side and meet again in a series of conferences, to the end that all existing differences between employer and employee shall be amicably adjusted. The purposes of the conferences are to try to stabilize working conditions and stimulate building.

Immediately after the meeting was adjourned the Master Builders' Association chose the following five men to represent the builders: J. J. Collins, representing heating and piping contractors; W. L. Wimmer, Master Builders; T. J. Blong, Painters' Association; William Schwartz, Sheet Metal Association, and E. J. Dryden, Cement Contractors' Association.

At a meeting of the Building Trades Council last night the union men named their representatives as follows: Charles J. Lammett, president Building Trades Council; Maurice J. Cassidy, secretary; Gary Spencer, of the Electrical Workers' Union; Fred W. Schultz, Cement Finishers; Lee J. Fritz, Carpenters' District Council.

Dates for the conferences will be selected in a few days. At the meeting yesterday the union representatives reiterated their previous demands for a blanket agreement for one year, embracing the 16 trades in the building industry, at prevailing wages, hours and working conditions. The builders argued that in view of decreasing costs of life's necessities, workmen's wages would have to accompany the downward trend of other prices.

The smaller committees were suggested by Wimmer as less cumbersome and more likely to accomplish a quick result.

NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING

The new advisory board of Washington University School of Fine Arts has decided upon aggressive effort toward a new building for the school, to replace what was known as the British pavilion at the World's Fair, and the condition of which does not harmonize with the needs of the school as it has advanced in recent years in standard and enrollment.

Tentative plans for a new structure for the School of Fine Arts, as one unit in a general project for improvement of the Skinner road front of the university, have been completed for two or three years, the whole improvement being estimated at something like $3,000,000. The only obstacle in the way of carrying the project to completion is lack of the $3,000,000.

INCREASED ECONOMIC TENSION IN AUSTRIA

Workmen Say They Will Continue Strike Until Profiteering Is Checked.

By the Associated Press. VIENNA, Jan. 12.—Tension over the existing economic and political situation in the Austrian republic seems to be increasing. Doors of the big hotels in Vienna are shuttered at dusk because of communist demonstrations against them as symbols of profiteering, but as yet no disorder has occurred.

Postal employees have announced they have called a strike, the Socialist element demanding that these workers be organized as a labor union. The Conservatives refused to say whether they will declare a strike against the strike of their co-workers. Mail collections ceased at 6 o'clock last night, and telephone and telegraph services will be suspended tonight if matters are not settled before that time. It is believed, however, that an adjustment is improbable and that a general strike will be called.

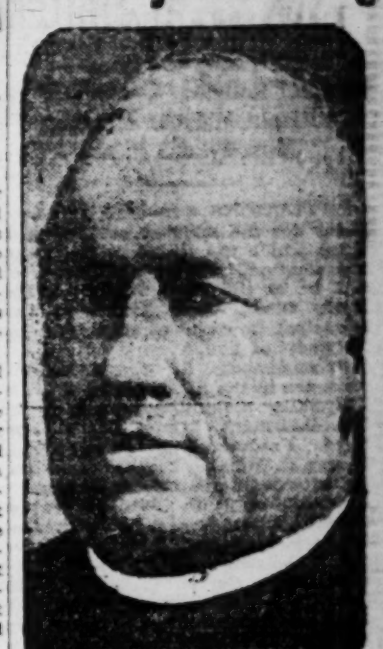

Workmen demand that the deduction of the income tax from their pay envelopes cease until the capital levy law enacted by the last National Assembly is enforced. They declare they will continue their strike until profiteering is checked.

The Government has drafted drastic regulations against profiteering, providing for heavy penalties for violations of the law, some features of which have been disregarded. Notable among the laws which have been allowed to become dead letters is one which ordered that tags showing the fixed price of articles of luxury have not been affixed to these goods. At present articles not under Government control are offered at fabulous prices. The Government has conceded new salary increases totaling more than 4,000,000 kroner annually, and has announced 100 per cent increases on the postage and freight rates to be charged for tobacco, salt and alcohol.

Officials in foreign circles, who have come in close contact with the situation, assert Austria is approaching a climax of some sort, and the general uneasiness was increased by a report printed here that former Emperor Charles was already on his way from Switzerland to Hungary.

10 Prisoners Escape From Jail. By the Associated Press. AMARILLO, Tex., Jan. 12.—County, city and Federal authorities in this section today are searching for 10 prisoners who overpowered the jailer and escaped from the county jail here last night.

How You Can Make Hairs Quickly Disappear

(Helps to Beauty) Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with Moll's. To remove hair from arms, neck or face make a stiff paste with a little powdered talcum and water, apply to hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or ingrowths. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain you get real Moll's and mix fresh.

The first of the series will be given next Saturday at 2:30 p. m. and the proceeds will be used to place sick children in the country for the summer. Patronesses include Mrs. George Allen, Vincent Price, William Barrett, Fitzhugh Turner and John Shipley.

HIDES NOW AT PRE-WAR PRICE

Packer Says One Costs one-Sixth of Retail Price of Pair of Shoes. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 12.—The cost of the hide out of which shoe leather is made is only about a sixth of the retail price of a pair of men's shoes, according to L. D. H. Weld, of Swift & Co., Chicago, who today addressed the National Shoe Retailers' Association in this city.

The Days Are Becoming Noticeably Longer.

With added hours of daylight and mild weather such as we are experiencing, it is impossible to think that Spring is very far away.

Longer days also give the shopper an extra hour in the stores and women are not unmindful of that advantage.

The Prufrock-Litton Furniture store at Fourth and St. Charles streets is the place to spend that additional hour. It is a veritable hazaar of pretty furniture in every design and finish.

During their Midwinter sale of Furniture, the price of each and every article in their store has been readjusted to the lowest possible level.

Anticipate your Spring Furniture needs now and benefit by the savings offered of $10 to $40 on every $100 spent. They will hold your purchases for delivery as long as April 1st.

"In the past year hides have fallen in value until they now cost no more than before the European war," said Weld. "One grade that sold for nearly 50 cents a pound a year ago, brings only about 15 cents."

Only Two More Days Friday and Saturday of Our After-Inventory Clearance Sale

Enthusiastic Art Needleworkers thronged our Store during the past few days. Why not you take advantage of the wonderful values we are offering?

NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN NEEDED TO PROMOTE ART IN INDUSTRY

George S. Johns, of Post-Dispatch, says Producer Who Considers Utility Only Will Fail.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 12.—A nationwide campaign in the interest of promotion of "art in industry" was urged by George S. Johns, editor of the Post-Dispatch in an address before members of the Young Men's Division of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Baltimore.

"Design is a fundamental necessity for industrial production," Johns said. "It enters as an essential factor in practically every branch of manufacture. The producer who considers utility only without regard to beauty in the article he produces will fail. He will be hopelessly handicapped in the market, because there is no purchaser quite so ignorant that he cannot distinguish some marked lines of beauty in the article he purchases or to judge between lines and ugliness."

MRS. J. N. BONAPARTE SUES "TOWN TOPICS"

Complaint Sets Forth Social Standing and Alleges Campaign of Abuse.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Blanche Bonaparte, wife of Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, great grandson of Napoleon Bonaparte, King of Westphalia, who was the Emperor's brother, has taken to court what she declared had been a campaign of abuse against her in the columns of Town Topics, which began after her marriage to Bonaparte on April 8, 1914.

Mrs. Bonaparte, who was the daughter of Edward H. and Emily H. H. Pierce, and who had divorced Harold Streiblich in Brooklyn a few days before her marriage, has sued Town Topics for $100,000 damages.

The complaint sets forth, among other things, that the plaintiff and her husband are persons of wealth and social standing, and accustomed to associate and mingle with persons of wealth and social standing in fashionable society, both in the city of New York and in the summer colony at Newport, R. I., and winter colony at Palm Beach, Fla., and are members of the social set, which comprise men and women of the greatest wealth and the most fashionable social standing in the United States, and that Mr. and Mrs. Bonaparte are well and favorably known in the social circles in which they are accustomed to mingle, and are well and favorably regarded by their friends and acquaintances, and have been for a long period of time.

Concerning the first paragraph complained of, which was published in December, 1919, the complaint says:

"That by said publication the defendant charged, in effect, that the plaintiff was a vain and foolish woman, delighting in having her own photograph taken to gratify her sense of personal vanity, and especially by the phraseology, 'nevertheless, she is a modest soul and has various accomplishments that are never flaunted before the camera,' intended by sarcasm to impute to the plaintiff a degree of vanity fully in keeping with the remaining portion of said article, especially as illustrated by the phrase in the previous paragraph: 'Mrs. Bonaparte intimated that the canvas would be loaned for exhibition purposes, which caused some of the overcurious to ask if the snapshot men had gone out of business.'"

Similar complaints are made of articles published in February and July, 1920, and Mrs. Bonaparte alleges that in one of the articles the writer "intended to charge of the plaintiff that for the sake of social admiration the plaintiff would, if necessary, neglect her domestic duties and matrimonial obligations," and that "by reason of it the plaintiff suffered keen mental anguish in that a slur was cast upon the matrimonial relations between the plaintiff and her husband, and the charge of unhappy married life was implied."

She asserts that "the relations between the plaintiff and her husband have at all times been harmonious, and that ever since their marriage they have lived happily together."

SURVEY SHOWS ST. LOUIS WELL ADAPTED FOR TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Climatic Conditions Said to Be Better Here Than in Boston and Manchester, England.

A survey, calculated to determine whether the climate and atmospheric conditions of St. Louis meet the existing requirements of the textile industry, has been completed and shows, a report of the survey states, that this city can better meet the demands of the industry in those respects than Boston and Manchester, England, the textile centers of the world, now do.

The survey was made by Samuel S. Dale of Boston, a textile manufacturer and editor of Textiles, a trade journal. He states that temperature and humidity, especially humidity, are governing factors of the textile industry because textile fibers possess the elasticity and pliability necessary for good carding, weaving and spinning only when they carry a certain amount of moisture. Lack of moisture causes irregularities in size of yarn, excessive breakage and hence excessive waste.

Analysis of atmospheric conditions for this purpose is stated in the term "moisture regain." The relative standing of St. Louis as regards moisture regain is indicated by the following determination by Dale: St. Louis, 5.85; Boston, 5.24; Manchester, England, 5.15; Salt Lake City, 4.15.

St. Louis in the past has sought textile industries, particularly cotton, on the fact that the city is close to the source of raw materials and the growing Western market.

FINE FOR CAMPAIGN ARTICLE

By the Associated Press.

WACO, Tex., Jan. 12.—The jury in the case of the State against Fisher Alsop, charged with libeling Pat M. Neff, Governor-elect of Texas, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty and assessed punishment at a fine of $2000.

The complaint, which charged criminal libel, was filed the latter part of November, 1929, and was based on the publication of an article signed by Alsop and printed in Ferguson's Forum at Temple, prior to the election of Nov. 2. The article discussed the question raised between former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey and Neff in the gubernatorial campaign as to the latter's age.

PRESBYTERIAN EVANGELISTS OBTAIN 1000 CONVERTS

In Addition to New Members, Campaign Has Reclaimed 800 Who Had Drifted From Church.

There have been 1000 additions to Presbyterian churches of St. Louis as the result of the evangelistic campaign now being conducted under the auspices of St. Louis Presbytery. It was made known at a luncheon of the Evangelistic Committee at the American Annex Hotel. In addition, 800 who had drifted away from the church were reclaimed, it was stated. The churches in which meetings have been held are: Rock Hill, Richmond Heights, Walnut Manor, St. Charles, Mo., Oak Hill, Tenth Street, Nelson Memorial, Winnebago, Sidney Street, Kingsland Memorial, McCausland avenue, Wellston Mission, Pacific, Mo., and Southampton. In the latter church, where meetings are now in progress, there have been 26 converts. Rev. Dr. R. C. Williams of the Tyler Place Church is doing the preaching at Southampton in place of the evangelist, Rev. Dr. E. E. Hendrick, who is ill. Rev. Dr. W. H. Thompson will begin at Curby Memorial Presbyterian Church Sunday and continue for two weeks, while Dr. Hendricks is scheduled to begin the same day at Northminster Church.

MILKMAN FOUND GUILTY OF BEATING GAMBLER TO DEATH

Wade Convicted of Killing Man While Latter's Wife Looked on and Children Played Player-Piano.

By the Associated Press. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 12.—Sentence of death today was imposed on Elwood B. Wade, convicted last night of murdering George E. Nott in his home here last August. Judge George Hinman, in Superior Court, directed that Wade be hanged before sunrise May 20, 1921. Wade, 21 years old, was convicted of killing Nott in Nott's home here on Aug. 29, 1920. Wade took the verdict with a smile on his face. Mrs. Nott, who has a daughter, 13 years old, and a son, 11, is to be tried later on a charge of murder. Nott formerly was a coal dealer and politician of Chelsea, Mass., and later a professional gambler in Bridgeport. The murder of Nott, who was many years his wife's senior, was said by the State to have grown out of a three-year intrigue between Wade and her. Nott's body was found in a trunk, sinking in a quicksand, in a swamp at Sport Hill, Aug. 29. The police were led to the spot by Wade and his helper, John Johnson. The skull was crushed. Four bullets and 19 stab wounds were in the body. Wade went upstairs, where Nott was sleeping, and after beating him into insensibility with a piece of lead pipe, while Mrs. Nott looked on and the children played the player-piano to drown his cries, shot him four times. The body was placed in a trunk. The trunk with the murdered man in it was taken away and left in a swamp.

JOHN MALANG, SUPERINTENDENT OF STATE HIGHWAY BOARD, QUILTS

Retires to Build Road West From Joplin. His Home, Into Kansas—Resignation Accepted. JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 13.—John Malang, superintendent and ex-officio secretary of the State Highway Board, yesterday tendered his resignation, which, at his own request, was accepted by the board. Malang, who has been a member of the department for two years, said he was retiring to devote his attention to his private affairs and to build a road west from Joplin, his home, into Kansas, in the construction of which some of his friends are much interested. Malang said he would not abandon the plan he recently suggested for expenditure of the proceeds of the $50,000,000 road bond issue in the construction of a primary and secondary system of permanent state highways, but would continue to advocate its adoption. Malang's resignation is to take effect Saturday. The office he is leaving pays a salary of $5000 a year. It will be left open for the present.

$10,000 SUIT OVER AUTO DEATH

Husband of Woman Fatally Injured in November File Action. James A. Hodges, 4243 Laclede avenue, today filed suit in the Circuit Court for $10,000 for the death of his wife, Mrs. Belva Hodges, 26 years old, who died Nov. 29 from injuries suffered at 7:45 P. M. the previous day when she was struck by an automobile at Laclede and Newstead avenues after she had stooped to pick up a handbag she had dropped. The suit is brought against Lawrence Bell of 1751 Preston place, said to be the owner of the car that struck Mrs. Hodges. The automobile was driven by Joseph Hucksoldt of 7761 Virginia avenue, a chauffeur. The petition alleges that the automobile was being driven at a high rate of speed when it struck Mrs. Hodges, and was not equipped with the kind of lights required by law.

DIES RESTING ON A DOORSTEP

Bernhard A. Berthold, 57 years old, of 2831A Wyoming street, a coal weigher, died on a doorstep at 221 Russell avenue at 6 p. m. yesterday after he had been taken suddenly ill and sat down to rest. Mrs. Agnes Koenig of 2021 Kosciuszko street, who saw him, asked if he was ill and if she could be of any assistance. He made no reply and fell over unconscious. Berthold is survived by his wife.

Another Reduction in House Paint. The second reduction in the price of house paint since last Dec. 1 is announced by the Greater Glidden Co., which controls 17 paint factories, including the Campbell Paint and Varnish Co. of St. Louis. The first reduction was 40 cents per gallon from $4.50. The present additional reduction is 33 cents, bringing the price to $3.75.

Church to Aid War Sufferers. Sufferers overseas by victims of war, pestilence and famine will be described Sunday morning at the Second Presbyterian Church, Taylor and Westminster avenues. A joint appeal will be made for the three causes—relief of the sufferers in Central Europe, in the fund administered by Herbert Hoover; for the Armenian and other sufferers in the Near East; and for the 45,000,000 North China, who by a two seasons' crop loss, are suffering from famine.

MAPLEWOOD MAN FOUND DEAD

Sutton avenue and Missouri Pacific tracks, where he was employed as office manager. He had fallen to the floor. Heart disease apparently was the cause of death. He was City Collector of Maplewood for eight years. He is survived by his wife, five sons and two daughters.

Henry Kuhlman, 78, was City Collector for Eight Years.

Henry Kuhlman, 15 years old, of 7326 Vine street, Maplewood, was found dead at 7:30 a. m. in a hall near the door of the Pehle Coal Co.

SALOON MAN SAYS HE GAVE $200 BRIBE

Fails to Identify Any of the "Cleanup Squad" at Police Station.

William Goertzen, a saloon keeper at 19 South Seventh street, yesterday afternoon went to the Newstead Avenue Police Station and looked at the police "cleanup squad," but failed to identify any of its members as men who on Jan. 6 threatened to arrest him for having whisky on his premises and accepted $200 from him to "square the case."

The saloon keeper was called to view the squad after its commander, Capt. Stinger, had received an anonymous letter which said some of the men were "grafting" and cited the occurrence at Goertzen's saloon. Goertzen said that at 8:30 p. m. Jan. 6 three men entered his saloon and said they were "officers" and had come to look for whisky. In the kitchen back of the saloon they found a small quantity of whisky in a half-pint bottle. Goertzen said he told them this was for his own medicinal use, but they threatened to arrest him and released him only on the payment of $200.

Half an hour later the same evening, he said, three men who showed badges entered the place and said they were "cleanup" men. They searched the place but found no whisky. Goertzen's failure to identify any member of the "cleanup" squad convinced Capt. Stinger that the men who obtained money from the saloon keeper were not policemen.

FUNERAL OF DR. A. C. ROBINSON TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Physician, for 25 Years Chief Surgeon of Police Department, Died in Office Yesterday.

The funeral of Dr. Anslem C. Robinson, 69 years old, who died suddenly yesterday from heart disease in his office in the Lister Building, 4500 Olive street, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday from St. John's M. E. Church.

He had been a practicing physician in St. Louis for 46 years, and for 25 years was chief surgeon of the Police Department. Drs. Harry W. Moore, G. E. Ruddell and D. P. Wright were visiting Dr. Robinson in his office when he collapsed, and in spite of immediate efforts by the physicians he expired in a few moments. At Dr. Robinson's residence at 5038 Westminister place it was stated that he had been an athlete in his younger days and that the heart attack was a comparatively recent development and had not been considered serious.

Dr. Robinson was born at St. Charles, Mo., and was educated at the Gimble German School, Washington University and the Missouri Medical College. He was a member of the Board of Health for four years. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hettie R. Leggat and Mrs. Ella R. Scarritt.

INNOCENT MAN IN PRISON FOR 15 YEARS FOR MURDER IS FREED

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Dec. 27.—After serving more than 15 years of a life sentence for a murder of which he has always claimed to be innocent, a young man named Hirschbrunner, is to be released, the guilty man having confessed.

On the day following a popular masked ball at Soleure in May, 1906, the body of a young Swiss girl was found in the waiting room of the railroad station where she had been strangled to death. She had been seen the previous evening in the company of a young man dressed as a peasant woman. The description of her companion tallied with a costume worn by Hirschbrunner and he was tried and sentenced to life imprisonment, entirely on circumstantial evidence.

COUNTY MEMORIALS PLANNED

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 13.—Jasper and Boone counties are the latest to take advantage of the offer of the State of $1000 to be used in erection of suitable memorials for soldiers from Missouri who served in the war with Germany. Fewer than half of the counties in the State have applied for money from the fund of $114,000, which was appropriated at the last session of the Legislature.

The money to be obtained must be matched with equal amounts by the counties applying for it. Fifty-three of the 114 counties have applied for money after subscribing funds at home for the purpose. Charleston, Barry and Cooper counties, however, did not ask for all the $1000 allotted, as the amounts raised in those counties were $275, $875 and $600 respectively. Counties that have asked for $1000 are: Audrain, Dent, Carroll, Wayne, Pike, Boone, Webster, Holt, Dade, Nodaway, Maries, Atchison, Callaway, Montgomery, Madison, Worth, Lawrence, Jackson, Grundy, Ray, Mississippi, Livingston, Cape Girardeau, Texas, Barton, Macon, Carter, Taney, St. Charles, Cole, Johnson, Phelps, Lincoln, Lafayette, Clay, McDonald, Howard, Buchanan, Adams, Vernon, Bates, Scotland, Christian, Jasper, Henry, Polk, Ralls and Saline.

PART IN FIVE STORE
HOLDUPS ADMITTED
BY RED-HAIRED MAN

John McGuire Says Combination of Moonshine Whisky and Unemployment Got Him in Trouble.

John McGuire, 27 years old, a carpenter's helper, today repeated to a Post-Dispatch reporter a confession he made yesterday to the police that since Dec. 30 he has participated in holdups of five grocery stores. Proprietors of two other stores have identified him as one of two robbers who held them up, but he denies these two crimes. He declared that a combination of moonshine whisky and unemployment caused him to become a robber.

McGuire was captured Saturday night in a flight from the grocery store of Donnelly & Pennington, 2401 North Prairie avenue, in which he and his companion were surprised when holding up more than a dozen persons by two policemen.

McGuire gave the name and a description of his companion in the robbery, blaming him for his own downfall. He wept during his talk with the reporter, declaring that this was his first trouble of the sort.

Says He Worked in Cleveland.

McGuire said he was born and reared in St. Louis, but for four months prior to his return three and one-half weeks ago, he had been working with a companion in Cleveland. When they were thrown out of work there they determined to seek work here, he said, and upon arrival rents a room at 2013 Easton avenue. On the night of Dec. 30, McGuire said, his companion appeared in their room with a quart bottle of moonshine whisky, of which he partook. They left their room shortly afterwards, he said, and, passing a grocery, his companion handed him a pistol, saying: "Come on in this store. You hold them while I get the money." He said he went in.

The store was that of Marie Rogers at 2900 Easton avenue. McGuire said that his companion told him he got $15 from the cash register and gave him $7.50.

On the night of Jan. 3, McGuire said, he and his companion entered the store of John Walsh, 1824 North Vandeventer avenue and going through the procedure of their first robbery, obtained $47, of which he received $23.50. Walsh reported that $50 was taken from the cash register. Two customers who entered when the robbery was taking place were also held up. William Owens of 1811 North Grand avenue, said that $23 was taken from him. Jacob Steison of 3834 North Market street said that the robbers took $1.50 from him. The three men were locked in the icebox.

Tells of Other Robberies.

Last Thursday night, McGuire said, he and his companion entered the grocery of William Brockman, at 605 North Ewing avenue. His companion gave him $20 after the robbery, he said, declaring that the total proceeds were $40. Brockman reported that $62 was taken. McGuire said his companion took $2 from a negro who was in the store but that he compelled him to give it back, saying: "We are not robbing that kind of people." The report to the police verified this incident.

Last Saturday night, McGuire said, he and his companion robbed the grocery of Patrick McDonough, 1321 Thomas street. McDonough said that $45 was taken from the cash register. McGuire said that he did not know how much was taken, his companion having, as usual, got the money from the cash register. Before they could divide the money they were interrupted by the policemen in their second holdup of that night in the store at Prairie avenue and North Market street.

Policemen Stop Holdup.
A woman customer, departing from the store, had looked back and had seen a robbery in progress. Her outcry attracted the attention of Policemen Hogan and Burgess, who entered the front door of the store just as the two robbers were handing about a dozen persons in the place into a back room. The robbers fled through a rear door. A chase of about 30 minutes followed in which Chief of Detectives Hannegan and many detectives and policemen participated and in which many shots were fired. McGuire was captured in a T-shaped alley after the brim of his cap had been cut by a bullet. His companion escaped, though the police found blood which indicated to them that he had been wounded.

McGuire's confession yesterday followed a visit to the stores named above at which each of the proprietors declared that he was one of the robbers. The positiveness of their identification was aided by the fact that McGuire has red hair and that one of his eyes turns in sharply toward the nose. He is blind in one eye.

Suspected in Theater Holdup.
The fact that he has red hair caused the police to suspect that he was one of the robbers who on Nov. 23 robbed the office of the Grand Opera House of $4300. The robber who participated in that affair had red hair, as did one of the robbers in the theft of the $10,000 payroll of the Gibbins & Lohm Dressing and Dyeing Co., 312 South King's highway on Dec. 4. Persons from the opera house and the fur company looked at McGuire but said that he was not the red-headed man who had taken part in those robberies. Sol Goodman of 2413 Franklin avenue and William Black of 2111 Franklin avenue said that McGuire was one of the robbers in recent holdups of their stores. McGuire said he did not have a hand in those robberies. McGuire's only relative in St. Louis is a sister. His father was drowned in the Galveston flood.

BUSINESS REPORTER
ANALYZES DEPRESSION

Statistician Says Present Conditions Will Exist for One or Two Years.

Roger W. Babson, a statistician, who operates a bureau with offices in leading cities, selling "reports on fundamental business conditions for merchants, bankers and investors," spoke today at the City Club under the joint auspices of that organization and the Chamber of Commerce. His subject was: "The Business Outlook for 1934." He exhibited a chart upon which he had drawn a line representing fundamental business conditions. Above this line appeared peaks, representing periods of abnormal prosperity and below were valleys, representing periods of depression, the whole covering a period of 17 years. This chart indicated that business, though fundamentally stronger than at any time in the 17 years, recently had plunged into a depression, which brought it about to the level of conditions in 1914. He predicted that the present conditions likely would continue for one or perhaps two years, and that the point of greatest depression would be reached possibly within a few months. He declared that the climb upward would begin at that instant that the "character" of the people of the nation changed, so that labor would do an honest day's work and employers would grant employees the economic share of business revenue to which they were entitled. "Until the soul of the people is converted, the depression cannot cease," he said. He said that his message at this time was righteousness in business, and spent several minutes urging this upon his hearers.

WOMAN AMONG NINE PERSONS
TAKEN IN LIQUOR RAIDS

Saloonkeeper Said to Have Pulled Wire in Effort to Upset Drink When Policemen Appeared.
Nine persons, arrested in liquor raids by the police yesterday and today, one being a woman charged with having a whisky still in her home. When a member of the cleanup squad entered John Rossato's saloon, 17 South Vandeventer avenue, at 12:45 p. m. today, Rossato was serving something in a small glass to a customer. When Rossato saw the policeman he threw the glass on the floor, breaking it. At the same time he kicked over and broke a quart bottle which was on the floor behind the bar and Mrs. Rossato emptied another bottle in the drain trough. The policeman found 15 quarts of whisky on the premises and arrested Rossato. Michael Mulch, a saloonkeeper at 4201 Laclede avenue, refused to sell a drink to a policeman, who noticed that at the same time Davis pulled a wire behind the bar. This wire was intended to upset a beer glass which was under the bar, but the policeman caught the glass and confiscated it. He reported that it contained about a gill of whisky. Davis was arrested. Arthur Kirschner, bartender in a saloon at 3300 South Broadway, was arrested after a policeman searched the place and found a quart bottle of whisky in a dumb waiter.

ADVERTISMENT
PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and drastic. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 50c.

ADVERTISMENT
Mrs. Hicks Relieved By Four Eatonics

"I have taken four Eatonics tablets and they relieved me of sour stomach. I recommend it to everybody," says Mrs. G. P. Hicks. If stomach is not digesting your food; if you have sour, flat, bloated, food repeating, indigestion or acid stomach, Eatonics will remove the cause by taking up and carrying out the acidity and gases, bringing quick relief and healthy digestion. Why suffer stomach trouble? Why not keep your digestion normal and enjoy good health? An Eatonics taken after each meal will prevent discomfort and pain. Make the test today and see how quickly this wonderful remedy acts. It comes in handy tablet form. Carry it with you. A big box costs only a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.

THREE MEN ADMIT ROBBING SAFE IN STORE, POLICE REPORT

Search Said to Have Resulted in Recovery of $229 Stolen From Furniture Company.

A report sent from the Carondelet Police Station to Headquarters this morning said that Charles Gangloff, 29 years old, and Arthur Morehouse, 27, both of 523 West Poepping street, and Louis Wagner, 17, of 7822 Virginia avenue, had admitted that they forced open the safe in Herman Roesch's furniture store, 427 West Steins street, early yesterday morning, and stole $229.

The police reported that a search of the men resulted in the recovery of all the money taken from the safe. Morehouse had $67, Wagner, $66.02 and Gangloff $95 in currency and $1.16 in stamps. According to the police they said this was the money which they took from the safe.

The three men, according to the report, implicated an employee of the firm who, they said, left a basement door open so they could enter the building. This employee was arrested, but denied he left the door open. The men were arrested on suspicion after a policeman on the beat reported that on several successive days before the robbery he had seen them loitering near the furniture store.

122,120 JOINED RED CROSS IN NOVEMBER "ROLL CALL" HERE

Number Greater in Proportion to Population Than That Enrolled in Any Other City.

The number of persons enrolled by the Red Cross in St. Louis during the fourth annual "roll call" last November was 122,120.

This number was greater in proportion to population than the number enrolled in any other city of the United States, according to Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, chairman of the St. Louis chapter.

Memberships are $1. Half of the sum collected goes to the national organization and half to the St. Louis chapter, to be used in carrying out the public health program adopted for this city. This program includes home nursing classes, first aid instruction, Meramec River life-saving campaign, community kitchens, "Vacation Village" in Forest Park, health clinics and milk centers.

PACKERS PAY STOCK DIVIDEND

Wilson & Co. to Issue 144 Shares for Each 100 of Common.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Wilson & Co., one of the "big five" meat packing corporations of the country, today declared a stock dividend of one and one-quarter shares for each 100 shares of common in lieu of a regular quarterly cash dividend of $1.25.

This action was taken with a view to conservation of cash resources, "pending the return of more settled conditions in the commercial and financial world." The new stock is payable March 1 to stockholders of record Jan. 27.

337 ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN 1920

Ninety-One Attributed to Autos, 112 Homicides, 127 Suicides.

The coroner's report for 1920, submitted today to the Mayor, shows there were 337 accidental deaths, 112 homicides, and 127 suicides. During the year 1931 inquests were held.

Of the accidental deaths 91 were attributed to automobiles, of which, the report states, 51 were cases in which the responsibility was not fixed. Of 43 persons held for criminal carelessness, 34 were drivers of automobiles. From accidental falls 115 persons died.

Vanderlip Project "Not Political,"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In a memorandum transmitted to the acting Secretary of State yesterday.

The Days Are Becoming Noticeably Longer.

With added hours of daylight and mild weather such as we are experiencing, it is impossible to think that Spring is very far away.

Longer days also give the shopper an extra hour in the stores and women are not unmindful of that advantage.

The P. C. Murphy Trunk Co. store at Fourth and St. Charles streets is the place to spend that additional hour. It is a veritable bazaar of pretty furniture in design and finish.

During their Midwinter sale of Furniture, the price of each and every article in their store has been readjusted to the lowest possible level.

Anticipate your Spring Furniture needs now and benefit by the savings offered of $10 to $40 on every $100 spent. They will hold your purchases for delivery as long as April 1st.

Washington B. Vanderlip of the syndicate which recently acquired concessions in Kamchatka, said the project was "commercial and industrial, not political," and asked that if the American Government was not disposed to render assistance at least "it place no obstacles in our path."

Automobile Used Car Show Sale

STUDEBAKER DEALER

Sale a Complete Success
Showroom Open Every Evening This Week Until 10 P. M.

The interest the buying public is taking in our Used Car Show Sale has far exceeded our fondest hopes. The sale began at 8 a. m. Monday and since that time our showroom has been thronged with people. Some of them came, as they said themselves, "only to look," but most were the happy possessor of one of these beautiful automobiles. They could not resist the opportunity of buying just the automobile they expected to buy in the Spring at half the price they had expected to pay. Two of these beautiful automobiles were sold after 8 p. m. if you cannot come during the day, come after supper. Our courteous salesmen will be pleased to wait upon you even if you don't buy with the same care as they would if you bought the highest-priced car in our showroom.

You cannot wonder that these cars are going so rapidly. Just think of a beautiful five-passenger Chandler, good paint, top and tires, ready to run, $495; or a Chalmers—a beautiful car at $395. Think of a 1930 Oakland Sedan, less than a year old, at $1295; or a 1928 Buick Roadster at $795.

Come in and see this assemblage of the most beautiful used cars ever gotten together on one floor. We can supply you with a coupe, wanted like a new car, in either a Studebaker, Paige, Dodge or Buick mobile or a Kissel Kar. We can furnish a sedan in a Studebaker, Oakland, Dodge or Chevrolet; all late models. Touring cars and Roadsters in every popular make handled in St. Louis. This has only been made possible on account of our late models of Studebaker Automobiles winning for themselves such a high place in the minds of the buying public. People have been glad to turn in their late models of popular makes as part payment toward the purchase of a new Studebaker.

Don't put this off. Come at once. Remember, when this sale closes these cars will be marked back to their real value. We will give you a year to pay for your car. If you don't want to use it until you make a small down payment and we will hold the car for you, with no additional cost to you.

Showroom open every day this week from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Defends "Future Trading."
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 In Senator Capper's attack upon the grain exchanges in general, and his animadversions upon the Chicago Board of Trade in particular, there is a carelessness of expression that would probably exclude him from serious consideration were it not that he has a number of supporters.

"Future" trading is the latest phase in the evolution of the grain business. It is peculiarly an American institution and reflects, in its way, the national desire for efficiency. By making possible the largest transactions in actual grain, and at the same time, removes therefrom the element of speculation. But "future" trading in any limited, or restricted sense, confers only a limited benefit.

The Chicago Board of Trade is the international center of "future" trading; foreign merchants and even governments, place their "hedges" there. Its selection is due to the fact that in the enormous volume of its business there is the warrant of instantaneous service, without which "hedging" is impracticable. St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis and Winnipeg all have large exchanges where "future" trading is a feature, but their merchants use the Chicago Board of Trade in placing their important "hedges."

But while the daily volume of these "hedged" "hedges" in their "putting on" and "taking off"—runs into the millions, it would be impossible to synchronize them in such a way that each would receive immediate execution, and so, the assistance of the "scalper" and speculator is invoked. These individuals find their usefulness in the necessities of the "hedgers" and the latter, in turn, depend upon each other. And, by the way, it was a Chicago "scalper" who, years ago, first conceived the idea of "future" trading. He would accommodate the miller or grain man by either buying or selling for future delivery, and for a long time he had the field to himself.

The utility of Senator Capper's plan to extend the privilege of "future" trading to a limited class of "actual owners" only is thus apparent: for even if the regular business could be organized and conveniently reached, which is doubtful, the accommodation required by "hedgers" could not always be obtained. It seems, however, that Senator Capper is not particularly interested in the "hedging" problem, but in the elimination of the speculator. Anything to down that individual! And the irony of it! The speculator is practically the only friend the farmer has. Not a day goes by without something emotional in his attitude; but year after year he protects the tiller of the soil from certain highway robbery. At the beginning of a crop year, the aim of Senator Capper's actual owner (generally an elevator man), to fill his house with grain at the lowest possible cost. The early run usually puts the terminal markets and the "actual owner" would positively secure it at his own expense, but for the beneficence of the speculator, who, knowing what the grain will be worth later on, bids the market up through the future deliveries.

The charge that the speculators were responsible for a break in grain prices finds refutation in an examination of the conditions that prevailed at the time. In wheat, the chart shows that the slump was coincident with the arrival of the new Canadian crop and the withdrawal of the British Government from the market. The conjunction of these two developments, along with the fact that wheat was bringing more than twice the pre-war price, caused something akin to a panic, and selling, both by owners and speculators, became practically general. Many speculators were caught in the collapse and lost severely, while others made money. In respect to the break in corn, it was precipitated by an unusually heavy summer run. For some time previously there had been a protracted period of car shortage during which the most arrivals at terminal markets brought famine prices. With the sudden and mysterious improvement in the car situation which took place in August and September, the terminal markets were flooded with corn which soon congested the tracks and elevators. The bearishness of the development was intensified by the Government's promise, in its monthly reports, that the coming crop would break all records, and the market naturally succumbed.

But why should Senator Capper be excited to vituperation over a break in the corn market? The evidence shows that approximately 15 per cent of the corn is used on the farm, and this being admitted, the case the farmer naturally becomes the beneficiary of any cut in the price.

Finally, it may be interesting for the public to know that there are still several hundred million bushels of old corn back in the country for which the farmer is offered over 15 per bushel, a. s. h. bushel market price.

WILLIAM A. STEPHENS.

TAX INEQUALITIES REVEALED.

The report of the State Tax Commission, a summary of which is given in Jefferson City dispatches, justifies all that the Post-Dispatch has said in condemnation of the policy of successive Democratic Boards of Equalization, which have persisted in maintaining gross inequalities of assessments in violation of law.

The report, with the map compiled by the commission, shows variations in the assessment of land of about the same value in adjoining counties, ranging from $6.70 to $72 an acre. In counties in which land sells for from $50 to $500 an acre, it is assessed for taxation at $20.

Similar discriminations in assessment of town lots and stock are noted. Here is the indubitable proof of the cause of the bankruptcy of the State Treasury under Gov. Major, who defended the discriminatory policy of the board. It shows without question why 64 counties of the State are unable to supply their needs and meet their obligations. It accounts for the wretched condition of the rural schools and the State institutions when Gov. Gardner went into office. It is the reason for the heavy burdens of additional taxes levied upon taxpayers who were already carrying more than their share of taxes.

The report justifies the existence of the Tax Commission, which, despite the late Legislature's efforts to put it out of business by depriving it of power and pay, has done invaluable work for the people of the State. This work should be continued until the State authorities have found a satisfactory solution of the tax problem.

Fortunately, every member of the new Board of Equalization except Gov. Hyde has pledged compliance with the law and the equalizing of assessments on the basis of the true money value of property. This reform would be greatly aided if, in compliance with the suggestion of the commission, competent assessors were elected in the counties.

TYPICAL OF THE DRAG-NET RAIDS.

Max Holder, manager of the restaurant in a Washington apartment house, was one of those taken in the drag-net raids of Attorney-General Palmer in June, 1919. Without a warrant, but simply on the personal instructions of somebody in Mr. Palmer's department, he was held for seven days.

On his release Mr. Holder did not content himself with telling his grievance to friends or writing letters to the newspapers. He sued, and on the hearing the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia took from the jury the question as to whether he was entitled to damages. The judge ruled that he was entitled to recover as a matter of law, and left to the jury only the determination of how much he was to receive.

The verdict was for $400 and the judgment is looked up the department agent who ordered him locked up. This agent disclaimed, in his testimony, any division of responsibility with a superior, asserting that he acted on his own initiative. An attempt to lay a foundation for a similar suit against some man higher up, perhaps against Mr. Palmer, himself, accordingly failed.

Holder had once been a strike leader in Washington, and some evidence in the case indicated that he had been denounced to the agent by a strikebreaker, who used the drag-net raid as a means of satisfying a grudge. This aspect of the case may be believed to be quite typical. In how many other cases did those illegal raids become an instrument of private vengeance?

A few suits for damages against Federal "agents" of multitudinous sorts, against Federal officials of more important station who exceed their powers, coupled with occasional impeachment for the higher-up, would cultivate a sense of accountability in the Federal bureaucracy. The old common-law remedies against officeholders for oppression are not available in the Federal jurisdiction, which rests on statutory enactments. By extending through new legislation those remedies to the case of Federal officials, criminal processes would be added to civil processes.

Mr. Atterbury and the Pennsylvania Railroad seem to have devised a plan for close co-operation between the management of this single road and its employees and for cutting out waste, and it has been done without abrogation of the national wage agreements.

DO THEY BELIEVE IN FAIRIES?

A gloomy summary of world trade conditions has just been published by the Department of Commerce. Other nations are finding it increasingly hard to do business with us. Exchange rates are almost prohibitive. Exports and imports are both falling off. This trade sloughiness is making itself felt in those countries by a slowing down of industry, increasing unemployment, more expensive and ever tightening credit.

The survey includes the South American nations, Australia and the Far East. The past December has recorded twice as many commercial failures in Argentina as occurred in the corresponding month a year ago. From India comes the warning that American business houses should exercise the greatest caution in the granting of credit. Many failures in China are predicted if the Chinese merchants follow their custom of paying all their debts on the new year, which, in our calendar, falls on Feb. 2. Japan is in a bad plight.

How the world is to be restored to economic health is a problem. There is no patent remedy that can

But in the face of conditions, what is to be said of the statesmanship that proposes to enliven trade by piling up new and higher obstacles to trade in the shape of increased tariff duties? Do the Democrats and Republicans of the House who recently joined hands, closed their eyes and voted for the emergency tariff believe in fairness?

"INSIDIOUS LOBBY'S" RESURRECTION.

If Senator Kenyon has accurately described Washington conditions, the insidious lobby, which was so sadly incapacitated by the assault made on it in the early part of Mr. Wilson's administration, has been invigorated and is rapidly resuming its old status and activity as that administration draws to a close.

The form in which the lobbyists appear to discharge their functions has changed in some degree. They are no longer mere members of a third house. They are the managers or publicity agents of bureaus pretending to be devoted to some public objective. Or they are attorneys or officers of some commercial organization of high-sounding name which maintains a Washington headquarters in evidence of its national scope and purpose.

But, according to Mr. Kenyon, the technique of these accelerators of legislation under new names has not changed, as compared with the old, discredited days. They pester the members continually, acquaint themselves with the prospects of certain measures while seemingly obtaining information of public interest and lose no opportunity to advance the aims of the concerns by which they are paid huge salaries.

The forms of social pressure about which rather apocryphal tales used to be told are now employed on an elaborate scale, the fiction of the past becoming the reality of the present. Members are entertained at balls and dinner paid for with lobbyists' funds, at which smooth legislative fixers get close to those who have the fate of pending measures in hand. Members defeated for re-election join the lobby and, knowing the ropes, command much bigger pay than Uncle Sam ever gave them. Oil, lumber and other interests are sending big checks to Washington monthly.

Mr. Kenyon suggests a registration of all lobbyists. The plan would not go to the root of the evil, but might help. Lobby aims and the public's concerns have nothing in common. When the former thrives, the latter languishes. Publicity operates with penal effects on the lobbyist; is the one thing he or she fears. It seems to be about time for another application of the pitiless publicity in exposure which left the lobby so enervated and helpless nearly eight years ago.

SHABBY BOULEVARD SPACES.

A letter to the Post-Dispatch directs attention to the neglected appearance of the boulevard spaces in King's highway, between Easton and Natural Bridge avenues. The street was opened to traffic after improvement in August or earlier. Why was work then abandoned without the finishing touches? It would have required but a few days by a few men to supply proper soil for the parking spaces, to smooth them off and to conceal their present shabbiness with sod or grass seed and the usual shrubbery. That work was then stopped when so little remained to be done gives just cause for irritation to the property owners who paid for the betterment. It seems to be another instance of city shiftlessness and a habit of delaying public improvements when expedition would serve the city's own convenience and when delay is inexcusable.

When a project is undertaken there is no reason why the city officials should not push it without delay and complete all details in a workmanlike, satisfactory manner.

Some day, we suppose, the producer and consumer will decide to play both ends against the middle man.

FRIEDMANN'S TURTLE SERUM AGAIN.

Years of war and vast medical and surgical progress were bridged when the Berlin Medical Society took up, the other day, the efficacy of the serum for tuberculosis made by Dr. Friedrich F. Friedmann, in experimentation with turtles. Expert opinion there seems to be in as much doubt as to the worthlessness of the so-called discovery as it was eight years ago. After eight meetings and much heated discussion, the Berlin society could reach no conclusion that represented the consensus of opinion of its membership. One member, Dr. Deschêch, eulogized Friedmann as a scientist to be classed with Pasteur and Jenner.

Dr. Friedmann was given by the Post-Dispatch and New York World an opportunity to test his turtle serum in America in 1912. The United States Health Board condemned it in 1913, declaring that small animals inoculated with it were rendered more susceptible, not less susceptible, to the disease. If eight years have not been sufficient to convince these and other violent skeptics, how long a time will it take to convince them?

There has been such an overproduction of fruit that the grower has had to sell below producing cost, the wholesaler is making very little money and the retailer, by keeping up prices, is the only person getting any profits out of the fruit business. "But I don't condemn the retailer," says the president of the National League of Commission Merchants. Well, whom does he condemn—"that man Wilson"?

(In loving memory of my mistreated manuscript.)
 NOTWITHSTANDING, nevertheless,
 In spite of the fact, to be sure,
 Literally speaking, I must confess
 I'm ignorant and poor.

Still, however, so to speak,
 'Tis the words of my pen, I mean,
 My vocabulary is woefully weak,
 My diction, gaunt and lean.

Or is it that I have no luck,
 Or lack political pull?
 Mebbe, for the stamps I've stuck,
 Would fill a basket full.

ANTHOLOGY OF ANOTHER NEWSPAPER.

Words.
 Ye editor was presented with a copy of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary this last Christmas. The other day as Sam Heckshot dropped into our office to have his last summer's clothing "red" changed he happened to notice our new addition: "Where in all reason did you get all that catalog?" he asked. We explained that the book was not a catalog; just a book of words. "Huh!" he said, "nothing but words? Some book, to have nothing but words in it. Even at that I'll bet the guy who got it up ain't got anything on my mother-in-law."

The Science of Deduction.
 At last our thriving village has experienced a real mystery and a real crime. Some person or persons unknown to the jury laid violent hands on the person of our respected fellow-townsmen, Tom Lager, and blame near killed him. Howard Hoopsalman our local detective has been engaged to ferret the matter out and, to if possible, bring the malefactors to justice. Howard says he has applied the "science of deduction" to the matter and so far as he is concerned the problem is solved. He says that the science of deduction when properly applied will solve darn near anything. He says a proper study of this great invention will make a first-class detective out of any numskull. He says he intends going to St. Louis some of these days and setting up as a teacher of advanced detecting. The mystery came up in this wise: Tom Lager, our aforesaid townsman, who resides in the lower part of town, in what is known as String Town came up to the congested district the other night after being warned by his wife that had luck would overtake him if he left his home premises without her consent, to have a social game of checkers with Doc Liben and a few other old cronies. The evidence gathered later shows that he tarried till a late hour—in fact till nearly 9 o'clock. At somewhere around that hour he started home. Before leaving Bill Hiram's barber shop, where the checker game was pulled off, he drank with the others a round of hard cider secured from desecrated Sells' private cellar.

mer comatose state. While his mind was working his mouth got in a few licks. He uttered these cryptic words: "Did anyone get his number?" This was the first inkling we had that there was any mystery in the case. The citizens gathered there held different opinions as to what he meant. One said: "But four dollars he meant, 'what was their number'?" Another said: "Maybe he sees some airplanes flying over and one of them dropped something on him. He wanted to know the number there was of 'em." So finally they called Howard Hoopsalman. Howard came and brought his book on detecting along. "First thing," said he, fishing a big reading glass out of his pocket, "this book says is to examine the wound." If there is one. Some of you hit Tom up here and I'll take a squint at that rising on his brow and we'll see if I can't deduct a workable theory from the outward indications." Howard looked at the bump on Tom's head for a long time. At last he said: "Thought somebody dropped an airplane on him did you? I'll say this much: I've seen enough to convince me that I'm not going to be one of the party to take the remains home. If you fellers have got nerve enough, go ahead and face his bereaved family; but I'll tell you this much: there was never an airplane shipped from the hardware company where Sam Heckshot buys his hardware; and if that isn't the monogram of some hardware company printed on Tom's manly brow, may I be shot. Some one beamed that bird with a cast iron skillet."

Tom's wife treated us real kindly when we brought Tom in; seemed like she was expecting something bad to happen. She said Tom would probably be all right in a day or two. She said he was given to fits of mental aberration. She said she had to call things to his attention right often.

But the question still remains: Who landed on Tom?

Reassuring Youth.

Entering a store a woman asked the youth behind the counter if she could see his employer. The boy went behind a thin partition and shouted into a back part of the shop:
 "Can you come? Lady wants to see you."
 A distant voice replied promptly:
 "What's she like—old or young?"
 The customer waited in suppressed amusement to see how the youth would answer this embarrassing question, since he must know she would hear both query and reply. But he was tactful.

WOMEN AND NATURALIZATION.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.
 WHEN Jeanette M. Rankin, member of Congress from Montana, introduced and pushed a measure to relieve American women who had married aliens, nationals of hostile countries from the hardships of property seizure by letting them apply personally for naturalization or repatriation, she got nowhere. But the bill actually reported yesterday by the House of Representatives committee would accomplish this and would utterly revolutionize naturalization generally, turning completely the universally recognized principle of international law that the status of a wife follows that of her husband. It is proposed that wives of naturalized citizens shall be compelled to take out personal papers, that alienating American women who marry aliens shall not lose their citizenship here while remaining residents of America; that alien women marrying American citizens must remain aliens until they are themselves naturalized, and, finally, that the children of naturalized citizens, even those born in this country, are not citizens but only eligible to become citizens on showing "their attachment to the principles of the Constitution." The latter clause seems to be unconstitutional, for the organic law of the United States says (thirteenth amendment): "All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens." Probably if it only applied to children born abroad the clause would hold water. We are not inclined to favor it, and to oppose it offhand this revolutionary change. Manifestly many complications in the matter of property rights are possible if a husband may be a national of one country and the wife a national of another country with differing laws. Manifestly the principle of family unity under one flag has a certain value. There is grave doubt in many minds whether any revision is demanded by existent conditions.

BERNHARDT'S NEW BOOK.

From the Living Age.
 GENERAL VON BERNHARDT, whose book upon the future war brought him into prominence during the late hostilities, has appeared again before the public, with a journal of his trip around the world in 1911 and 1912. We reprint the following quotation from a review in the London Times: "Anyone who is well grounded toward the Free State of North America must wish it a mighty struggle for existence with adversaries of equal rank, so that this people may come to perceive that the greatness of a state cannot be founded merely on material and economic achievement, but that it needs much more; in the first instance those spiritual and moral forces which are altogether wanting in America today. In the face of danger the population would come together in national unity; there would be ripening of moral powers which at present exist only in germ; there would be a development and a hardening of the strength, which, at present, is simply not to be taken seriously; the sense of duty to one's country would become a living reality; out of the stream of action the pursuit of nobler and grander ends would follow than that of mere material gain; love of adventure and personal prowess would be busy, for the well-being of the whole as it has been hitherto for private interests; finally, in the face of danger there might emerge a high sense of national honor which today is present only as national vanity, and from the soil of a great historical tradition there would spring ideals which might shine forth as a beacon to a great and powerful future. What the American Free State needs is a big war."

$7,100,000 VOTED IN HOUSE FOR PROHIBITION

First Rejects Proposition to Appropriate $100,000,000 to Enforce Dry Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The House went up and down the ladder in voting yesterday on appropriations for enforcement of the prohibition law. First rejecting an amendment to the pending appropriation measure under which the Bureau of Internal Revenue would be given $100,000,000 to break up the outland liquor traffic, the House adopted, 36 to 48, an amendment by Representative Volstead of Minnesota, father of the law, increasing the total from $5,500,000 to $7,100,000. Before this vote was taken, the House, jumping from one extreme to the other, defeated without count an amendment limiting the amount to $1,000,000. There was a tinge of old time prohibition bitterness in the half hour debate preceding the final clearing away of the whole question as to how far Congress should go in making the country "bone dry." Pleading for a larger sum than had been fixed by the Appropriations Committee in framing the legislative, executive and judicial bill, Volstead gave warning that the country would be heard from if it was the policy of Congress to cut down appropriations and make the job of enforcement a joke. Volstead said he merely proposed a figure near that which the Attorney-General had requested. Representative Gallivan, Democrat of Massachusetts, gave the House its first indication that a fight was brewing by proposing to make the appropriation $100,000,000. Taking up the statement of Volstead that a good part of the money spent would come back in fines, he said: "Why this mite? Let's go the limit. Let's help the new administration by bringing back a hundred millions." Referring by name to Wayne Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, as "Mr. Volstead's legislative adviser," Gallivan declared Wheeler had said he would make it so dry in Massachusetts "his people would spit cotton." "They are doing that now," he declared. "I want to say to the Anti-Saloon League that Massachusetts today is the only State in the Union that is enforcing the prohibition law. I contend that the sum I suggest is a drop in the bucket when you consider how much is needed to enforce the law in the rest of the country." Shift of Authority Advocated. Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the bill, strongly opposed an increase, asserting that not one dollar should be added until the law's enforcement was placed squarely with the Department of Justice. Other members took part in the discussion. Representative Cranton, Republican of Michigan, declaring that any reduction would be like serving notice on the people that a reaction had begun and that an era of law-breaking was beginning. There was a roar from both sides of the chamber when Gallivan announced he would accept in place of his amendment a substitute by Representative Stephens, Republican of Ohio, cutting the appropriation to $1,000,000. Representative Mann, Republican of Illinois, objected, and all of the three proposals were put to a vote. Volstead winning, hands down, amid applause from the prohibition forces.

MOTHER OF 5 CONVICTED BY JURY ON DRY LAW CHARGE

Mrs. Frances Jennick, 26, years old, proprietor of a vegetable shop in Benton, Ill., was found guilty by a jury in the United States District Court in East St. Louis yesterday afternoon on a charge of illegally having whisky in her possession. Her five children were in court and one of them sat on her lap while she testified. It had been reported to Federal officers that whisky was being sold at the store. In a raid they seized two quart bottles of whisky. Mrs. Jennick's defense was that she found the whisky near a shed on her premises. She denied she sold any of it. She was released on her own recognizance after asking for a new trial. In the same court yesterday Peter Stonies of West Frankfort, Ill., was convicted by a jury of having been still at his home. He was sentenced to serve a year and a day in the Penitentiary.

Making Missouri
Safe for Savings
Invested in
State-Regulated
Public Service Securities.

State-regulated public utility companies are not permitted to earn large profits out of which to extend their properties. They are limited to a reasonable yearly profit on investment. When growing steadily year after year, as Union Electric is, they must therefore be always in the market for new capital.

The State, regulating this business in the public interest, aims to help it attract new capital at lowest cost by making it safe for the savings of investors. Folks with money to invest are naturally willing to invest it for a lower rate when they feel sure of regular dividends than when dividend payments are uncertain.

This safety factor has induced thousands of Missouri investors to put their savings into Union Electric 7 per cent preferred stock during the past three years. It is daily attracting more investors into the business, through purchase of these shares. It has kept Union Electric preferred a par value stock during the war and since the war. It has enabled the Company to put $100 of cash into its properties for each $100 share sold, less the actual cost of selling, which to date has been less than $4 a share. And every dollar of this selling cost has been spent here at home, making work and wages for Missouri men and women. It has helped to hold down rates. It has given thousands of men and women of small means an opportunity to share the profits of a big, permanent, successful business, drawing 7% on their savings.

You can buy these shares at $100 each for cash. With $10.20 you can make a first payment on a share; $10.20 a month more for nine months makes you the owner of a share. You draw 5% interest from the Company on your installment payments. At the end of nine months you get your stock certificates and begin drawing 7% dividends, $1.75 per share four times a year. Thousands of men and women who neglected to save part of what they earned during the flush years are going to save regularly hereafter. A good many are now using this plan of saving. It pays better than any other plan we know, and it is SAFE. We want more thousands of home partners. The buyer of one share, starting with a payment of $10.20, is just as welcome as the buyer of 100 shares for cash.

FIGHT OVER LABOR PORTFOLIO UPSETS CABINET PLANS

Both Sides Said to Be Demanding Impossible in Selection of Successor to W. B. Wilson.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1921.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—News of the fight behind the scenes between capital and labor over the type of man who shall be the next Secretary of Labor is beginning to trickle out, and explains to some extent the upsets in the Cabinet slate which had been tentatively made up by President-elect Harding.

Both sides are demanding the impossible. Some representatives of manufacturing interests want a man who favors the open shop or rather one who will recognize the right to close a shop to union workers. Labor, on the other hand, wants a man who is not fundamentally prejudiced against unionism and who will not be harmful to the unionization of plants and factories that are not organized by the unions.

Briefly it is the whole struggle between capital and labor over again, with this change. As prices are coming down, there are certain manufacturers who believe the time is ripe to strike a body blow at unions by refusing to employ union men or workmen who insist that their fellow employees shall be unionized. This extremist attitude is defended in some cases because when prices were high and the demand for labor was urgent, the unions are alleged to have insisted upon union rights and the transformation of nonunion plants into union membership.

Friends Warn Employers. Rather significantly, the other day the New York Herald, owned by Frank A. Munsey, and an influential organ of the Republican party, hinted at the fight over the secretaryship of labor by telling both sides that the appointment of an extremist could not be expected. It is said that the editorial in question was inspired by a desire on the part of Harding's friends to make his task easier by telling the employers in the citadel of manufacturing interests that they could not hope for editorial support in their campaign for a partisan on the labor question. The fortunes of Herbert Hoover are to some extent bound up in the controversy. Hoover was practically selected by Harding for the secretaryship of labor because liberal employers, who wanted a fair man rather than a partisan, thought the former Food Administrator's attitude toward the labor question was sound and that he enjoyed the confidence of both sides. The American Federation of Labor itself recently invited Hoover to appear before it and give advice, and it is suspected that labor would accept the appointment of Hoover with sighs of relief, not because he represents their viewpoint, but because they have been in fear that a neutral would not be appointed and that the next four years at least would be a constant battle with an arch foe of unionism in the Department of Labor.

Both Sides Emphasize Rights.

The trouble is that both sides are emphasizing their rights when each side should be announcing their concessions so a compromise may be worked out. That's why Harding himself is eager to appoint a man who shall have the imagination, initiative and force to work out a real solution of the differences between employer and employee. The importance of the appointment, too, lies in the fact that the Department of Labor investigators must be impartial and just whenever a big strike arises and that their conclusions must be skillful enough to retain the confidence of the parties to a strike. The fear of the conservative labor leaders is that if a foe of unionism is appointed there never will be any recourse to government boards of mediation and conciliation and that the progress which has been made toward the friendly settlement of labor disputes will be lost.

The President's first industrial conference failed because both sides refused to compromise. The second conference, differently constituted, got somewhat further along, but never attempted to deal with fundamentals. It set about to devise means of settling industrial disputes only after they had arisen. The open and closed shop question is still unresolved. The real fight that is coming is not over reductions in wages, but the open shop issue. Employers' organizations here admit that the struggle is on in earnest and that the first step is the appointment of a Secretary of Labor. There are two kinds of open shop, one that is open to union and non-union workers with the two classes on an equal footing and in which the management deals with the workers without reference to their national organizations. The other kind is the shop closed to union workers altogether. Unfortunately, some employers' leaders mean the latter kind when they talk about an "open" shop. What they mean is one that is closed to union men and open only to nonunion men.

However, the interesting undercurrent of the fight is that labor is not making at this time a concerted fight against wage reductions, but a fight to retain right alone. Now that prices are falling and the cost of living is being slowly, but gradually reduced, the worker whose wages are not reduced is in actuality getting a progressive wage increase.

VAUDEVILLE ON PROGRAM OF WASHINGTON U. MUSIC CLUBS

Smiles in Audience at Odeon Indicate Pleasure at Departure From Campus-Song Program.

The first of two concerts which the Washington University Glee and Mandolin Clubs give annually at the conclusion of a holiday tour in Missouri and neighboring States, took place last night in the Odeon before a cordial gathering, composed chiefly of undergraduates and alumni, who filled the lower floor.

On a recent visit, the Glee Club of Harvard University undertook to relieve audiences of campus songs, which it apparently felt were being worn through constant use by an ever-increasing number of touring college organizations. As a relief measure the Harvard Club ascended the scale into classics.

The Washington Clubs apparently recognized the same condition, but plunged into vaudeville. The plunge had some degree of success, if the visible signs of amusement upon the faces of the audience formed a criterion.

The Glee Club opened the program at 8:40 o'clock, but could not make its way to a stage again before 10:20 o'clock. The interim, except for a fleeting appearance of the mandolin club, was occupied by black-face vaudevillians; by red-nosed comedians on kiddy cars, smacking of between-the-halves stunts at football games; and by a jazz-band which played ensemble numbers and permitted its members to appear individually in violin solos, piano imitations, burlesque acrobatics and eccentric dancing.

Other numbers were the variety quartet singing, "Goodnight, Beloved," Paul W. Flory singing a tenor solo very well, and some rollicking ragtime on the banjo club of eight instruments.

The Glee Club sang three programs and two encore numbers, two of which were descriptive, "Mrs. Cozy's Boarding House" and "The Old Mill Wheel." The Mandolin Club had a similar number, "Purkys' Jubilee." The program will be repeated tonight.

"FRONT PORCH INAUGURATION" PLAN OF HARDING APPROVED

Congressmen, Supreme Court Justices and Officials to Assemble on Capitol Porch.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President-elect Harding's suggestion that his inauguration take place on the east porch of the Capitol was ratified formally today by a joint congressional committee in charge of the ceremonies. The "front porch" plan, members said, would be carried out literally and every possible dollar of expense eliminated. No spectators' stands, benches or even camp stools would be provided, they added.

Members of Congress, the Supreme Court and officials will assemble on the Capitol porch. A small stand will be built on which Harding will stand in full view of the assemblage expected and sound-amplifying devices will be installed over the President-elect's head so that all in the crowd may hear his inaugural address.

Dr. Hugo E. Wangelin Dies

AT HOME IN BELLEVILLE

Dr. Hugo E. Wangelin, who died at 6 a. m. today at his home, 426 North Church street, Belleville, was the third prominent physician of that city to die within three months. Dr. Washington West died in October and Dr. L. F. Tague in December.

Dr. Wangelin, who was 54 years old and had practiced for 30 years, was stricken a week ago. Death was due to pneumonia, influenza and Bright's disease. Dr. West died following an operation for appendicitis and Dr. Tague died from an accidental gunshot wound inflicted by Miss Frances Schetter.

Dr. Wangelin was also the last survivor of three physicians who had occupied joint offices at the Elfishart drug store and practiced together for many years. The others were Dr. A. M. Schell, who died a few years ago, and Dr. George H. Hilgard, who died in France during the war.

He is survived by his wife and a son, Evans, a student at Western Military Academy, Upper Alton, and a daughter, Mrs. Waldo Krebs. The funeral will be at 3 p. m. Saturday under Masonic auspices, the deceased having been a 32d degree Mason.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils to Open Up Air Passages.

What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more snoring, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

HUGHES TO RESIGN AS G. O. P. STATE CHAIRMAN

Bank Commissioner to Relinquish Party Leadership to Vice Chairman Monier.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 12.—J. G. Hughes of Macon, chairman of the Republican State Committee, whose appointment as State Bank Commissioner was confirmed yesterday by the Senate, last night reconsidered his determination not to resign from the chairmanship of the committee, and announced that he would retire and turn over the affairs of the party organization to Roy H. Monier of Carrollton, the vice chairman.

Pressure from Gov. Hyde, several Republican Senators and others active in the new administration is said to have been responsible for Hughes' change of attitude. Tuesday night he stated positively to a Post-Dispatch correspondent that he had no intention of resigning. Yesterday morning Gov. Hyde said he saw no reason why Hughes should resign.

All day, however, there was talk among Republicans that Gov. Hyde would be severely criticized for choosing the chairman of the committee, who had directed his campaign for the best job he had to fill. The talk was carried to the Governor and was the subject of a number of conferences during the day, resulting in the evening in Hughes' determination to quit the committee.

However, the criticism did not abate when it became known that Hughes had no intention of calling a meeting of the committee to choose his successor, and that it was his intention that Monier should assume direction of party affairs.

Monier is close to Gov. Hyde and is of the progressive element of the party. While there is no apparent basis for fear that control of the party organization would be lost to the administration if the committee was called to elect a new chairman, it is said that a decision was reached that no chance should be taken and that the reins should be turned over to Monier without action by the organization.

ALTON CHILD, 5, KILLED IN FALL FROM AUTO

Skull Crushed When Son of Academy Commandant Tumbles From Machine.

Albert Jackson, 5-year-old son of Maj. Ralph Jackson, commandant of the Western Military Academy near Alton, was fatally injured at Washington and College avenues, in Alton, at noon yesterday, after he fell from an automobile which was being driven by his mother. His head was crushed between a wheel of the machine and a curbstone. He died of a fractured skull at 4 p. m. at the Jackson home at the military academy.

Mrs. Jackson in a touring car had called at a private kindergarten for Alton and his brother, Ralph, 3 years old. On the way home she stopped at the point where the accident occurred and went into a store, leaving the children in the front seat of the automobile. Ralph was sitting on the right-hand side next to a door which is supposed to have been insecurely fastened or to have been opened by the boy while his mother was in the store. Returning to the machine Mrs. Jackson got into it on the left-hand side, not noticing that the right-hand door was unlocked. When she started to pull away from the curb a slight jolt caused the boy to lurch against the door. It opened and he fell out.

Mrs. Jackson stopped the car within 10 feet, picked up the boy and carried him into a drug store. Three physicians gave him emergency treatment and accompanied him home in the machine. He never regained consciousness.

If Names Mean Anything, Kenesaw Mountain Landis Will Be a Bad Proposition to "Climb"

Landis to Confer With Board for First Time Today

Important Subjects to Be Discussed at Meeting With Minor League Men.

JUDGE SUPREME DICTATOR

New Agreement Signed Yesterday by Officials of Both Major Leagues.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Organized baseball entered a new era today, governed by new national agreements and administered by Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis as supreme dictator.

The first meeting of Judge Landis with the new baseball advisory board was held today. The advisory board consists of M. H. Sexton of Rock Island, Ill., and John H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., president and secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, representing the minor leagues.

Important subjects discussed at the meeting included: Rule to promote co-operation and understanding in carrying out the provisions of the new agreements; procedure for settling differences that may come up between the majors and minors; plan for presentation and hearing of future disputes between leagues of the same classification in the minors or between the teams of one league.

More Money for Umpires. Revision of world's series regulations, with relation to the disposition of receipts also was taken up at the advisory board's meeting. The agreement for the government of baseball was raised to 15 from 10 per cent, and the rule awarding the four world's series umpires a flat $1000 each was replaced by one which stipulates that the four shall divide a sum equal to one losing and one winning player's share. The umpires have long contended for such a percentage.

The two major leagues yesterday signed the new national agreement making Judge Landis Baseball Commissioner with supreme powers, and the minor leagues signed an agreement with Judge Landis as their ruler, but it differed in one word from that signed by the majors. This difference, it developed, was due to a misunderstanding and it was announced that so soon as the necessary formalities had been gone through with the minors would sign an agreement identical with the one approved by the major organizations.

Revised the national agreement, the individual major league club owners affixed their signatures to a contract in which they agreed to abide by the decisions of the Baseball Commissioner. The agreement was announced that he would sign the contract. He was not present yesterday.

Landis Issues Ultimatum. The signing of the new national agreement brought a sharp statement from Judge Landis concerning the powers he must be given as Baseball Commissioner. He led to enormous reports that he had issued an ultimatum giving the club owners 15 minutes in which to make changes in the agreement. He said that if he did not receive such action by the time limit, but did issue an ultimatum telling the club owners that he would make such changes as he saw fit.

When the copy of the new national agreement was brought before the league representatives, it contained a section saying that the Commissioner, after investigating any affair, he considered detrimental to baseball, could recommend such action as he deemed advisable.

Judge Landis interrupted the reading of the document to say that this must be made to read "take such action" as he saw fit.

"You have told the world that my powers are to be supreme," he said. "I will give the power merely to recommend" takes all power out of my hands. I will retire from this matter. But I want you to know that either I must be given power to take such action as I wish, or else I had better seek a new Commissioner. I wouldn't take this job for the gold in the world unless I knew my hands were to be free."

On motion of President Johnson, the major leagues voted to substitute the word "take" for "recommend," but it was found that the minors were not in official session and the matter could have to go through their Drafting Committee again.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Can a Champion Be "Built"?

ONE of the most interesting experiments ever undertaken in the sporting world will number a climax early this year through the activities of the International Sporting Club, of New York, and the O'Rourke boxing club, which is matchmaker and pugilistic adviser to the organization. The experiment is based on the idea that it is possible to take raw material and construct a pugilistic champion.

The idea, which originated with O'Rourke, has already progressed beyond the preliminary stages, thanks to unlimited finances furnished by the promoters. The new club has funds aggregating over $750,000. It proposes, after building a clubhouse, to devote any residue from its capital and part of its annual dues to the development of the boxing game to the highest possible plane.

It was O'Rourke's idea that the heavyweight boxing candidates in this country were far below the former par established by men like John, Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, Corbett and Sullivan. It was his view that the hazards of the game and the small emoluments to be obtained by beginners were such that most of the desirable timber from which champions might be developed, would not consider pugilism as a means of livelihood and that they therefore were lost to the game.

Developing Raw Material.

TO CORRECT this club instituted a series of scouting expeditions with a number of capable pugilistic judges doing the scouting. Their aim was to pick 12 men, raw material, who appeared to possess the native qualities, weight and punch included, to become potential champions. These 12 were to be trained and put through an elimination series and the survivor was to be chosen for special preparation, after which he would be sent against the world's champion—Jack Dempsey or whoever might happen to be on the throne at the time. To make it interesting to the 12 individuals, attractive terms were held out which included a salary during the experimental period were to be paid, with adequate rewards to the successful candidate, should he come through to the final tryout. It was provided that the survivor was to repay the club out of his first two fights for their investment in his pugilistic education; and after that he was "on his own." Whatever his ability might be able to gain thereafter would belong exclusively to himself.

Will Try for World Title.

THE club's idea was not permitted to languish in the conversation stage. In the last few

Willie Meehan Is Sought for Match With Local Heavy

Man Who Is Credited With Two Decisions Over Dempsey May Box Heitzenroeder.

By John E. Wray.

Matchmaker Roger Cornell, of the National Sporting Club, who has injected several novel thoughts into the fight promotion game since he became a St. Louisan, is fermenting another idea with a 110-proof kick in it.

This consists in a plan to bring here from San Francisco the redoubtable Willie Meehan, holder of two decisions over Jack Dempsey, for an eight-round match with Herman Heitzenroeder, of the South Broadway Athletic Club.

On the face this assertion carries nothing startling with it; but the wise boy with the sore lip will be likely to be painfully concerned. There is something intricate about this match.

To begin with, Herman Heitzenroeder was a wrestler and a top-notch fighter, too. In the second place, he is ambitious to become a boxer and has no secret that Homer Smith and Bob Roper made but little impression on him, when he gave them the once-over Tuesday night. And then again, just to make the matter still more involved, Heitz himself is matchmaker for the South Broadway Club.

Heitz Has Terrible Walkout.

The last ought not to be least. Being a professional matchmaker, the assumption is that Herman wouldn't do himself an injustice in arranging any bout in which he also figured as principal.

The match, if it is finally closed as Cornell hopes, will bring this pair of 150-pounders together late this month or early in February at the First Regiment Armory.

Heitzenroeder is a powerful fellow and a tremendous wrestler. He has had several fights and has scored knockouts on several occasions. One of his last fights was with Hugh Walker of Kansas City. In the first round Heitz almost ended the bout with a savage smash; but Walker weathered the storm. Unfortunately for Heitz the blow broke a bone in his hand and the referee had to stop the bout after because Heitz was unable to continue. Heitzenroeder protested violently that he could finish; but the official would not let him continue.

Municipal Soccer Stars Below Par, Veteran Asserts

Failure of Referees to Enforce Rules the Cause, "Pro" League Scout Says.

Despite the fact that there are more than 100 players competing in the senior division of the Municipal Soccer Association every week, not more than 10 each season make good in the professional circuit. In discussing this fact, a scout for one of the teams in the St. Louis Soccer League gave it as his opinion that the Municipal players were permitted by the referees to "get away with too much."

This scout, who was considered one of the best forwards in the professional circuit, stated that the youngsters are not learning the game now as they did 15 years ago, when he got his start with the St. Rose at the old C. B. C. campus.

"Time after time followers of the game have come to me and asked the reason for the small number of Municipal players who make good in the professional circuit, each season," said this scout.

"Up to a recent time, I was unable to tell. But for the past few weeks I have been going around to the games at the various parks seeking new talent for my team. And there I have found the reason."

Play the Man, Not the Ball.

"The players are permitted to get away with too much. They think more of playing the man than the ball. In fact, in a game I witnessed last Sunday that seemed to be the chief object, if that is the way they expect to improve in the game they are following the wrong track."

"It was not that way when I first broke in. In those days we were taught to leave the man alone and play the ball. That teaching has helped me, as in the 15 years I have been in the game I have never had a foul called against me."

Farrell Is Slated to Become Secretary to Baseball's Dictator

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—John H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., for 20 years secretary of the National Association of Minor Leagues, is slated to become secretary to Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, Commissioner of organized baseball, it became known today.

Secretary Farrell, a pioneer in baseball, has received a tentative offer from Judge Landis, but the question of salary and the term of office has not been considered. He is known to be a man of high character and the term is for seven years or more, the length of time Judge Landis was chosen to serve. Farrell received a salary of $7500 a year as secretary of the minor leagues.

Judge Landis probably will confer with Farrell today and, if accepted, the acceptance of the secretaryship may result.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Harry Ratcan, mainstay of the Robins Dry Dock football club offense, is just recovering from an attack of blood poisoning he will keep him out of the game for several weeks, and may keep him out the rest of the season, though he expects to play again within three weeks.

Leonard Forced To Work Hard to Protect Forfeit

Lightweight Champion, After Boxing Fifteen Rounds, Still Over 135 Pounds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Benny Leonard put in his hardest day's training yesterday in preparation for his 15-round bout with Richie Mitchell, which is to be held at Madison Square Garden on Friday night. Benny battled through 15 fast rounds, shadow boxing during the minute intermissions in the later rounds. This rounded out a day of strenuous work, for in the morning Leonard covered several miles on the road.

A big crowd of boxing enthusiasts packed the Commonwealth Sporting Club, where Leonard does his training, and they seemed to be very impressed by the condition of the champion.

Mitchell, likewise, sped up a bit in his workout, although the Milwaukee lad has been preparing for this contest for several weeks and is practically on edge for the battle.

Leonard, in order to assure himself concerning his 135-pound forfeit, stopped on the scales after his rub-down, and tipped the beam at 135.3 pounds.

"That leaves me just two days of good, hard work to put me at the right notch," declared Leonard, and that's what I want. If I were any lighter I'd have to ease up a bit. I don't want to have to do that. I've got that weight thing just about properly gauged now, and I ought to go into the ring at my very best."

OUTLAW IS RIGHT.

It is reported that the proposed third league will sign the Chicago Black Sox, who were banished from organized baseball for throwing games. Why not call it the Corkscrew League?

Hughie Jennings probably got tired of picking the Giants to win the world's series and thought he'd sign up with McGraw and help put 'em over.

Benny Leonard says a successful fighter must be a student. Preferably a graduate from the College of Hard Knocks.

Benny says his favorite blow is the one that started Freddie Welsh to defeat. But we take it that it didn't make much of a hit with Freddie.

Incidentally, Freddie is on his way back and would consider it a favor if Benny would slow up a bit and wait for him to catch up.

Judging by his checkbook activities, it looks like John McGraw will be known to fame as the guy who put the "pen" in pennant.

There is an athletic war on between the army and navy. The wets and dries don't seem to get along at all.

See where 15 moonshiners were caught by an officer single-handed. Must have sneaked up on 'em in the dark of the moon.

The former Attorney-General of Missouri who was shot in the shooting ducks out of season entered a plea of nolo contendere. Beat that and take the money.

Ruth to Train With Team.

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 12.—E. G. Barrows, business manager of the New York Americans, today wired the Shreveport Journal that all players, including Babe Ruth, will positively train at Shreveport. We may send Ruth and several pitchers to Hot Springs for two weeks prior to reporting at Shreveport on March 6.

Miske-McGoorty Match Off.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 12.—The 10-round boxing match between Billy Miske and Eddie McGoorty, scheduled for tonight, has been called because of an injury to McGoorty. It was announced today.

BOB QUINN ARRANGES EXHIBITION BATTLES

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Bob Quinn, business manager of the Brown, yesterday arranged a series of spring exhibition games to be played while the club is in the South. The contests are as follows:

March 6—New Orleans at Bogalusa, La.

March 12—Milwaukee at Bogalusa (tentative).

March 15—Brooklyn at Bogalusa (tentative).

March 19—New Orleans at Bogalusa.

"Pro" Tennis Results.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—In the first professional court tennis tournament played in the United States, R. Dutton of the Boston Tennis and Racquet Club, today defeated Joseph Moss of the Philadelphia Racquet Club here today, three sets to two. The scores were 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

It was his view that the hazards of the game and the small emoluments to be obtained by beginners were such that most of the desirable timber from which champions might be developed, would not consider pugilism as a means of livelihood and that they therefore were lost to the game.

Developing Raw Material.

TO CORRECT this club instituted a series of scouting expeditions with a number of capable pugilistic judges doing the scouting. Their aim was to pick 12 men, raw material, who appeared to possess the native qualities, weight and punch included, to become potential champions. These 12 were to be trained and put through an elimination series and the survivor was to be chosen for special preparation, after which he would be sent against the world's champion—Jack Dempsey or whoever might happen to be on the throne at the time. To make it interesting to the 12 individuals, attractive terms were held out which included a salary during the experimental period were to be paid, with adequate rewards to the successful candidate, should he come through to the final tryout. It was provided that the survivor was to repay the club out of his first two fights for their investment in his pugilistic education; and after that he was "on his own." Whatever his ability might be able to gain thereafter would belong exclusively to himself.

Will Try for World Title.

THE club's idea was not permitted to languish in the conversation stage. In the last few

DECISION THAT THROWING CONTESTS IS NO CRIME WILL NOT SUIT LANDIS

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—With the various league and interleague disagreements settled at yesterday's baseball meetings, the club owners, Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, and the State's Attorney's office last night began the formulation of plans which it was expected would result in an early trial of the men indicted for conspiracy in the alleged throwing of games in the 1918 world series and which, it was expected, would eventually stamp out gambling and game throwing in baseball forever.

George Gorman, Assistant State's Attorney who has been placed in charge of the baseball case, announced that the indicted men would be arraigned about Feb. 3 and that an immediate trial would be held so that the case could be disposed of before the baseball season opened.

The American League appropriated $10,000 to be used in the prosecution of the men.

"I cannot anticipate action in the cases of the men indicted," said Judge Landis, "but if they are found not guilty by a jury or by a Judge they will not necessarily be allowed to return to organized baseball. They must first satisfy me, as Commissioner, and I do not hesitate to say that a decision similar to that on the coast, where a Judge ruled that throwing games was not a criminal offense, will not satisfy me."

M'BRIDE NAMED MANAGER OF WASHINGTON OUTFIT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—George M'Bride, former shortstop and captain, was appointed yesterday manager of the Washington Senators baseball club. Clark Griffith, president of the club and former manager, will devote himself to executive duties and scouting for the team.

THE HERO By VINCENT BLASCO IBANEZ

Mrs. Solomon Says:

By Helen Rowland.

Being the Confessions of the Fourth-Hundredth Wife.

Now, a damsel of Babylon came and said to me:

Behold, I am a Modern woman. I yearn to be natural, to be MYSELF! Yet I desire to be charming and happy. How, then, shall I be happy? I answered her sadly, saying:

My daughter, unless thou canst be through life partnerless, man-

less and husbandless, and be happy, cast aside thy yearning for the "answer."

And what woman can be happy,

I thought, "I am a Modern

Hints for the Home Maker

NEVER buy the cheapest prunes.

The largest are always the cheapest, for the small ones have too many stones, which,

of course, is a waste.

Substitute two tablespoons of corn starch for an egg in a plain sugar cake. The only noticeable difference in the cake is that it will not keep moist for so long.

Pieces of bread that are to be used for dressing will make a nice, firm

jelly. When testing jelly if two rows of drops form on the edge of a spoon held sideways jelly is ready to put into glasses.

Try using a potato ricer instead of a colander for straining foods such as cranberries, marmalade and stewed pumpkin and squash for pies.

A green tomato will remove stains

from the hands.

Twelve ounces of sugar added to a pint of juice will make a nice, firm

jelly. When testing jelly if two rows

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

Peter Is Forgiven.

YOU remember that Peter Rabbit had been away from the dear Old Briar-patch for several days. He hadn't intended to stay away like that. Of course not.

That night he had left it to run over at the entrance to one of his private little paths. There he stopped. He didn't hate to go in and face little Mrs.

Peter. He certainly didn't. He knew how she would feel. "She didn't need to. She had no business to," he kept on saying over and over to himself.

"She knows I'm quite able to take care of myself and that there isn't a thing to worry about. Worrying about me is all foolishness."

Little by little Peter worked himself up to something very like indignation with Mrs. Peter for being worried. He actually almost made himself believe that he and not little

Mrs. Peter was the one who had the real right to be indignant. That was his guilty conscience trying to make him believe himself in the right

when he knew that he was in the wrong.

When he had reached this state

Peter boldly hopped to tell little

Mrs. Peter how very, very wrong she was and how she had no right to scold him and be cross with him.

But he had no chance. No, sir; he had no chance. Little Mrs. Peter didn't come to meet him as he expected. He actually had to hunt through the dear Old Briar-patch to find her. And when he did find her she simply turned her back to him and hopped away. Peter followed,

Whitey the Snowy Owl so nearly began to trouble him, and he actually did start for the dear Old

Briar-patch. Nothing happened on the way there, and Peter was soon at the entrance to one of his private little paths. There he stopped. He didn't hate to go in and face little Mrs.

Peter. He certainly didn't. He knew

how she would feel. "She didn't need

UNCOMMON SENSE

BAD HABITS ARE CATCHING

By JOHN BLAKE

A great orator once said, it would be better for the world if a good habit was "catching." But it isn't. We can easily get diseases from other people. But health is never contagious.

However, happiness is contagious and can be contracted by associating with people who enjoy it. And to turn to the dark side again, so are bad habits.

In fact, most of us who acquire bad habits catch them from people who have them in a very virulent form.

One lady man in an office will be likely to slow up the whole organization. One man who gambles, and seems to get away with it, will infect all his foolish friends with the gambling virus that is undermining his character. The sensible ones won't catch it, for they know that sooner or later the gambling bug will get him. And gambling, always bad in mind, is the one habit, once it is established, that cannot be cured, no matter how many mental or moral doctors you call in.

It is a pretty good plan to locate all the gentlemen with whom you happen to work or play, and resolve that you do not go along with them to the habits that are keeping them from getting along.

You will be easy to immunize yourself if you just think how much harm the habits will do, and take a cure the minute you find the first symptom developing.

If a man is lazy, analyze the effect of his laziness on him, note how little progress he is making, and resolve that you do not go along with that particular habit. If he is a procrastinator, don't procrastinate just because he does. The habit will always keep him behind with his work, and badly paid in consequence. Avoid that habit as you would the smallest.

You can catch the right kind of habits by associating with people who have them. Pick industrious, cheerful people for your friends, people who mean to succeed, and know how to do it. You can expose yourself to all their working habits with profit. And if you get infected with them, it will make a big difference in the ease with which you reach the goal you have set for yourself.

AND I suppose you met Monsieur Simou-

Anybody who visited the historic town of X—in French Flanders was sure sooner or later to be asked that question.

The traveler might know the ancient cathedral of the city from spire to spire; he might have visited, guidebook in hand, all the churches and convents dating from the Spanish occupation; he might have studied all the quaint facades or bourgeois houses belonging to later Flemish periods. But he was credited with knowing nothing unless he had met the director of the Library-Museum, whom some people called "Monsieur Simoulin," as though no other description were necessary, while others referred to him respectfully, though still more tersely, as "our poet."

The most famous curiosity in the historic town of X—was undoubtedly "Monsieur Simoulin," our poet." On this everyone agreed, not omitting the three newspapers of the opposing political parties in the town, which could agree on nothing else.

Nevertheless, among the numerous landmarks

in X—no one could point to the birthplace of "our poet." The great Monsieur Simoulin was a Southerner, a meridional, from the country of olive groves and August crickets; though he had come when quite young to X—, to take charge of the library that was being established there. At X—, moreover, he had married and raised a family; and the good people of the town were quite willing to forget his foreign origin in view of the unquestioned glory he brought to their parish.

Estimable but unlettered citizens for the most part, but notables of the town, enriched on the manufacture of beer and Flemish breakfast rolls, had noticed simply that their museum had been filled during Simoulin's regency, with historic objects that bore splendid testimony to the past eminence of X—, and as for "our poet," he could talk most impressively of Bishops, knights and burgomasters who had figured in the ancestry of many commonplace shopkeepers in the city.

In addition to all that, Monsieur Simoulin was a man who looked the part. "That is just what a great man should look like," everyone averred

on seeing his long white beard and flashing eyes, under a head of snowy hair that had the venerableness of years and the flourish of genius.

While on his feet, Monsieur Simoulin lost, to be sure, something of his majesty. He was a trifle short in stature, and there was a suggestion of nervousness, uneasiness, in his carriage. But there, behind his desk, in the museum "study," in spite of the wrinkles on his face and the dusty yellow of his complexion, he could have passed for the Lord of Abraham, of Isaac and of Jacob.

Whenever Monsieur Simoulin talked—and that was whenever there was anyone to listen—his words had the prestige of a personal intimacy with greatness. All the foremost celebrities of the last 50 years had been close friends of the wonderful man. He always mentioned Victor

Hugo and Gambetta by their first names. During Gambetta's political campaigns against the Royalists, Monsieur Simoulin had had, undoubtedly,

some connection with the great republican tribune. As for the author of "Les Misérables," the truth was that Monsieur Simoulin had seen him only once. He had gone with a committee of republican students to carry a greeting to the great

Hugo while the latter was in exile in Guernsey.

But such deficiencies counted little with Monsieur

Simoulin's admirers. They continued to repeat,

with solemn, unquestioning awe, that "Vict

HOW CAN THEY DO IT?

Old Jake Kildare was a hard-boiled egg—
Uncommonly hard and grim—
You never could borrow or coax or beg
The price of a meal from him.
The old man's wit was as keen as steel;
Whatever he tackled paid;
He never was gyped on a business deal
Or trimmed on a single trade.

But when he shifted his earthly cares
And lay in the cold, cold ground,
And the will was read to his rightful heirs
It jolted them when they found
That he'd paid a million to buy a note
That only the other day
He found endeavoring terms he wrote
To a Jane in a cabaret.

Jim Green was a man without romance—
A sordid mercenary old gent—
Never by any sort of chance
Was he moved by sentiment.
He took the shrewdest of sharpers in
With a grim and ghoul-like pride,
And grinned an evil and savage grin
As he peered a sucker's hide.

But when old Jim had passed long,
The world was amazed to find
That there wasn't the price of a marked-down song
In the wealth he had left behind.
It had all been paid for a minnie, which,
In a day not so long ago,
He had written a little blue-eyed which
Who stood in the second row.

A Good Return.

A man, who came upon two youngsters fighting, promptly put a stop to the hostilities and, turning to the lad who had appeared to him to have been the aggressor, asked:
"Why did you strike this boy?"
"He hit me first."
"Suppose he did. Don't you know that you should return good for evil?"
"Well, an' didn't I ask him good?"
